Betty Thye

July 22, 1917 ~ July 11, 2017

By Matt Levins
The Hawk Eye

Respect. Integrity. Sportsmanship. Those are three words that describe Betty Thye, well, to a ‘T’

BGC member and BGC Men’s Championship and City Championship winner John O’Neill III described Thye best, calling her “Burlington’s First Lady of Golf.”

Thye is one of the biggest reasons why southeast Iowa churned out junior golfers who went on to play and excel at the game the rest of their lives.

Thye, who was inducted into the Iowa Golf Association Hall of Fame in 2009, died on Tuesday morning. She was 99. She would have turned 100 on July 22.

Thye leaves a legacy that dates back to the 1950s. Her influence on the game was felt from the Missouri River to the Mississippi, from the Minnesota border to the Missouri border.

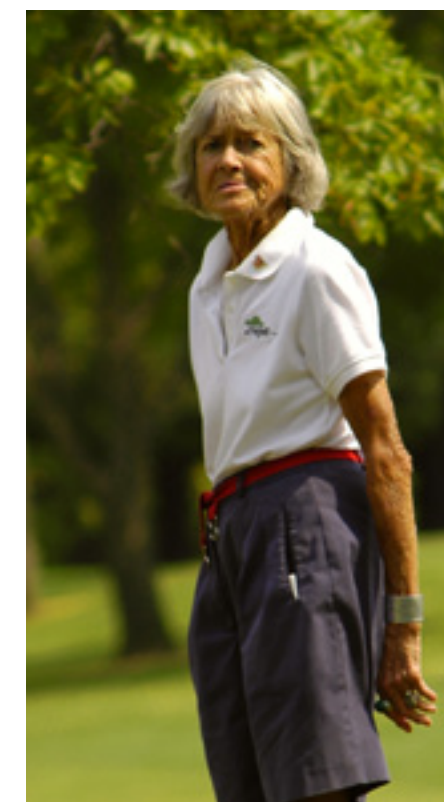

But nowhere was her gentle touch and soft words of encouragement more felt than in Burlington and at Burlington Golf Club, where she was a longtime member and spent much of her time.

Thye’s passing leaves a void that will be impossible to fill.

“She was one of the most influential people on juniors, as well as Joe (BGC PGA professional Butler) and Jock (former BGC professional Olson),” said Jill Blackwood, longtime member at BGC and one of Thye’s closest friends. “She didn’t teach me how to swing the golf club, but I would never be the player I was able to become if not for her. She taught me how to play the game.”

In her letter nominating Thye, Blackwood, a former Iowa Women’s Golf Association President, stated that “Every woman golfer in Iowa has benefited from her efforts and they will continue to benefit in the years ahead.”

“It’s a sad day in Burlington,” Butler said. “She hadn’t missed a single day of junior golf in my first 24 years here until this year. She loved golf and she helped teach the rules of golf. She was a rules stickler, for sure. She leaves a tough void to fill, without a doubt.”

A Message From The President

President Mike Pape

Hello everyone from the West Coast of Iowa! It's been a great honor to be inducted as President of the Iowa Golf Association. I have been involved with the IGA for about 10 years and have enjoyed every minute of it. The best part of all is meeting the golfers from around the state. The statement "If you play golf, you're my friend" made by Harvey Penick, definitely applies to Iowa golf.

2017 has been another memorable year. With over 20,000 IGA individual members and nearly 200 member clubs, we continue to expand as an organization. With that growth, we are committed more than ever to growing the game. We are so fortunate that we have great accessibility and affordability for golf in Iowa. Not too many states have it as well as we do.

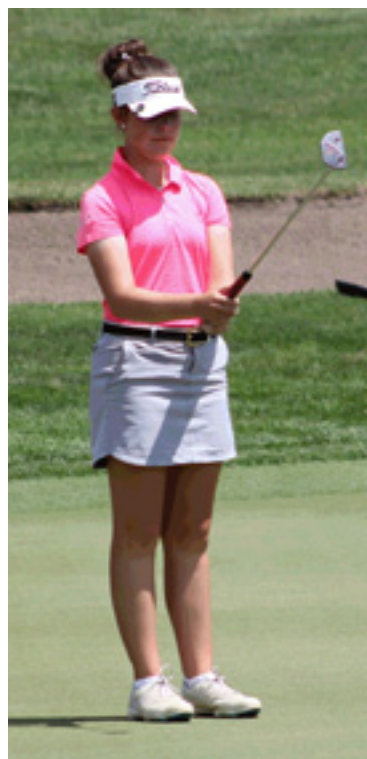

It is also exciting that the IGA Foundation continues to grow. Thanks to your support we proudly award the Herman Sani and Ann Griffel scholarships. The selection committees of these awards marvel at the high level – and sheer number - of applicants each year. The fundraising gifts, large or small, are indeed appreciated! It is one of the IGA's goals to maintain and grow these valuable scholarships.

What can you say about our IGA staff? They go above and beyond every year! It's hard to imagine any other state getting better service with such a small group than us. With a limited staff and budget, Chad Pitts, Bill Dickens, Katelynn Hogenson, Clint Brown and interns Nate McCoy & Brooke Miller make every IGA event a pleasure to participate in. Their enthusiasm, professionalism and knowledge help many Iowa golfers enjoy a great golfing experience. From all the golfers in Iowa - Thank You!

The level of play from players around the state continues to amaze. 2017 had very competitive championships throughout our schedule. The leaderboards were filled with notable longtime champions and new "up and comers".

Ladies, it looks like "there is a new sheriff in town" with the amazing performance of 15-year old, Junior Player of the Year, Britta Snyder. She won the Iowa Women's Amateur by 13 shots, becoming the 2nd youngest champion ever! She will be fun to follow as she continues her career in high school and college. J.D. Anderson captured the men's Player of the Year. J.D. has been on the doorsteps several years for this noted achievement. His 67 during the final round of the Iowa Mid-Am at Beaver Hills Country Club was one of the best of this year. Julie Buerman and Rose Kubesheski won the women's open and senior Player of the Year awards, respectively. These ladies played great all year and showed a lot of class. We started a new Player of the Year race in 2017, the Super Senior Men's. It was great to see longtime IGA supporter Rob Christensen win the initial award. The future looks bright for Junior POY's Frank Lindwall and of course Britta Snyder. Last, but not least, what a historic year by Hall of Famer and Senior Player of the Year, Gene Elliott. He excelled in state and around the world. From Iowa to Britain to Canada to Florida, his year was one for the ages!

The entire state showed out at one of 2017's biggest golf events, The Solheim Cup, held in August at Des Moines Golf and Country Club. The play of the women was superb and the community support was second to none! Kudos to Des Moines Golf and CC for a "job well done". They made all Iowans proud as attendance and excitement were at all-time highs. The volunteers – of whom the IGA was a small part - worked and prepared for months for this memorable week.

The IGA held its Annual Awards Dinner at the beautiful Elmwood Country Club in Marshalltown. The Players of the Year and Annual Award winners were both honored. These great people and their staffs are the backbones of Iowa golf. Please give your local PGA Pro, Golf Course Superintendent, Club Manager and all their staffs a big smile when you see them in 2018! They all do a fantastic job and we don't thank them enough.

I would like to thank the USGA for their continued support of the IGA. Through some re-organization the IGA shifted regions - from the Central to the Great Lakes - and we are excited to work with our new Regional Director Tyler Riggan. We were sad to see our former Director Mark Passey retire, but we know he is having a lot of fun playing more golf these days.

Last, but not least, I would be remiss if I didn't mention outgoing President Andy Burton.

2017 Solheim Cup (Courtesy, LPGA)

His service and leadership leaves the IGA in great shape and poised for even more growth. Thank you Andy!

As we close the book on 2017 we can look forward to an exciting and fun year in 2018. It will be great to see you all. Thanks for your continued support of the IGA!

Mike Pape

A Message From The Executive Director

Executive Director
Chad Pitts

2017 was a terrific year for golf in Iowa and the Iowa Golf Association.

There were certainly many highlights, but, as the years pass, I think it will mostly be remembered as “the year Des Moines Golf hosted the Solheim Cup”.

It was a sight to behold, as spectators came from all around the world to attend. The course was fantastic, the competition was intense, the volunteers were amazing and the event seemingly broke records at every turn.

To name just a few, it had the most unique tv viewers (7.3 million) for a Solheim Cup, most attendance (124,426 fans), most volunteers (2,000), and the Sunday coverage was the most watched women’s golf broadcast in over eight years! And probably most impressive of all is that Des Moines Golf & Country Club will be awarding half of the proceeds from the event to local charities that support women.

For the IGA, it was a joy to be a small part of that event. We helped out as rules officials for the Junior Solheim Cup matches as well as providing volunteers to help marshal the pivotal par-3 17th hole. We are very thankful to the LPGA Tour and Des Moines Golf and Country Club for including us, and for putting on such a wonderful show.

SOFTWARE UPGRADES

We launched a brand-new website shortly after the first of the year. It was very well received by the general public. There were two main goals of the new site: make it responsive on all kinds of devices (phones, tablets, etc.) and make it easier for anyone on the staff to publish content. I believe we accomplished both. I am very proud to say we did it all “in-house”, which is especially rewarding and cost-saving.

We provided new tournament management software to our member clubs this year. The launch of “USGA Tournament Management”, or “USGA TM”, is a collaboration of the USGA and Golf Genius software. This program is the replacement for “TPP”. As you would expect, there was a learning curve for all who moved to the new platform, but the software proved to be much more powerful and robust than its predecessor. It’s definitely an enhanced benefit to our member clubs and we are thrilled about that.

GOLF’S ECONOMIC IMPACT

In late January the results on golf’s Economic Impact in the state of Iowa were released. This study was a partnership of the IGA, Iowa PGA and Iowa Golf Course Superintendent’s Association. It found that golf in Iowa has an economic impact of $817.5 million (based on 2015 figures). The game employs 11,435 individuals amounting to $280.2 million in compensation and accounted for $72 million in state and local taxes. You can view the complete study at our website.

In addition to the study, the IGA, Iowa PGA and Iowa GCSA, held the first-ever All Iowa Golf Day at the State Capitol on April 13th. Representatives were able to speak with state leaders on the importance of the game to Iowa’s economy, as well as ways to help promote golf more both in the state and around the Midwest.

It also featured a short meeting with Governor Branstad, who signed a proclamation declaring April 13, 2017 as “All Iowa Golf Day”.

HONORING OUR BEST

The administration of championships is one of the most visible things we do and we crowned many deserving champions and qualifiers throughout the season. Tournament days are long and sometimes difficult, but overall still a lot of fun to see everyone play and compete.

We inducted another terrific class into the Iowa Golf Hall of Fame in June at Hyperion Field Club. John Ausen, Rick Brown, Emil Roewert, Jerry Smith and Brad Schuchat have accomplished and contributed a lot to this great game. I encourage you to read more about them elsewhere in this yearbook.

We ended the year on a nice note, honoring both our Players of the Year and our Annual Award winners (Course of the Year, Manager of the Year, etc.) on the same night for the first time. It was a terrific evening that brought many from around the state together to reminisce and celebrate a great year. We look to continue the practice of honoring those individuals and courses together in the future.

MOVING FORWARD

2018 will continue to be a year of update and change. The USGA has spent the past five years or so studying appropriate ways to make their relationship with State and Regional Golf Associations, such as the IGA, more interconnected and aligned. The result is that they are partnering with one association in a given geographic district to help fulfill the mission of the USGA and its programs. They are calling each of these partners an “Allied Golf Association”, or “AGA”. The Iowa Golf Association has signed an agreement to become a USGA AGA partner. Our jurisdiction will be the entire state of Iowa and Rock Island County in Illinois (county that surrounds the Quad Cities area).

The basics of the agreement are that the IGA will be the “boots on the ground” for USGA programs and services in our jurisdiction (we will still administer all of our traditional IGA programs and services). In many ways, it is what we have always been doing, but with enhancements and added responsibilities. These programs include USGA Championship Qualifiers, Rules of Golf and Amateur Status governance, Handicap System oversight, Course Rating System administration and continuing to promote various programs like “Play 9”, “Tee it Forward” and “While We’re Young”. We are very excited about the strengthened partnership we will have with the USGA.

Finally, 2018 will bring an addition to our terrific staff as Nate McCoy, our 2017 P.J. Boatwright Intern, will join us full-time as Manager of Championships and Course Rating. We are excited to have Nate on board and look forward to the work and value he will bring to our association.

We are anxious to see what 2018 will bring for us. We know that whatever it is, we will work hard and have fun bringing you the game of golf as you know and love it. Now let us see spring come early!

Rules and Competitions Committee Report

President Mike Pape
Committee Chair

There are a lot of parts to what the IGA Rules & Competitions Committee oversees - IGA Championships, USGA Qualifiers, Rules Administration and Education - and overall 2017 was another successful year for our programs. The most visible of these is certainly our championships.

The tournament season started with our first trip to Beaver Hills Country Club in Cedar Falls since 2003 when they hosted the Iowa Mid-Amateur. The championship was a home-run as the weather was perfect and the course was in fantastic shape. We are very grateful to have BHCC back in the fold as a host.

The Iowa Amateur returning to Cedar Rapids Country Club was a highlight. While I (smartly) didn't try to take on the newly restored Donald Ross venue as a player, I was able to make it over and help for a couple days as a volunteer. I got to witness first-hand how terrific that golf course is, how wonderful the CRCC staff was to work with and how the players navigated their way around the difficult layout.

Seeing the Match Play Championship at The Harvester was a treat. It is easy to see why the course is consistently ranked at the top of the "state's best" lists compiled by various publications. The Keith Foster design provided a stern test for the men and women on a nearly perfectly manicured course, thanks to the Harvester grounds crew.

Hyperion Field Club provided a terrific venue for the Women's Amateur, where we had a 15-year old (Britta Snyder) best the field by 13 strokes. She was the 2nd youngest to ever win our state's biggest event for female amateurs.

It wasn't long after our female amateurs were competing at Hyperion when the best female professionals gathered at Des Moines Golf & CC for the 2017 Solheim Cup. The event is run and administered by the LPGA Tour, but they were gracious enough to include the IGA in much of their festivities and responsibilities, which made a great week that much more for us.

We helped out as rules officials for the Junior Solheim Cup and marshaled the 17th hole during the big event. And while the U.S. team came out victorious, the biggest winners were Des Moines G&CC, golf in the state of Iowa and female golfers from around the world. Everything looked terrific on television and was a blast in person. And it's always nice when the weather cooperates for a big event like that, which it mostly did during Solheim Cup week.

The mild to severe (depending on where you are in the state) drought throughout 2017 created issues for many of our member golf courses, but that does create one positive when it comes to running tournaments - lack of suspensions. While we certainly still experienced delays due to severe weather, it was less than prior years. We were thrilled that we didn't lose any complete days this year, which was a big change from 2016.

I want to take a moment to thank all the members of the grounds crews that worked so hard to give our players the best possible playing conditions during our events, whether we had weather issues or not. I make this comment nearly every year as I write this report, but it is important. The Superintendent and his or her crew are the unsung heroes of the game and deserve way more credit than they receive.

And it isn't just the grounds crews that have been so great to work with. In each and every case we are met with tremendous cooperation from our host sites and their staffs. We are very lucky to have such willing partners.

In addition to our host staffs, we have continued to train and grow our base of tournament volunteers. They spend hours of their free time out on the golf course helping us conduct our events. It is their sacrifice and dedication that help make these things go. One of their interests is certainly education on the Rules of Golf, and the rules were front and center in 2017 for sure.

The USGA and R&A announced in March that the biggest update to the rules since the first code was published in 1744 will take place in 2019. The draft of the changes were made available for all to see. They then let anyone have the chance to comment and provide feedback on the proposed changes for six months.

The groups now are ciphering through all that feedback to evaluate where edits and corrections are necessary to the proposed changes. The final code will be announced on March 1, 2018 and will go into effect on January 1, 2019. The general feelings from most everyone we have seen and talked to are overwhelmingly positive.

One of the exciting features of the updated rules are that the USGA will create and embrace new technology in their rollout of the rules.

Think along the lines of getting your phone out and watching a video on how to take a drop from a cart path, rather than pulling the rules book out of your golf bag and flipping through 100-plus pages of text. Now that's a big advancement for sure. You can view the complete proposed new rules code at usga.org.

Because of this "overhaul" to the rules, we have taken a bit of a break on sending our staff and volunteers to the USGA-PGA Rules Workshops. In fact, the USGA-PGA has geared way down this winter in their offerings. They went from offering around 20 workshops to only 5 this winter. They will counter by doubling their efforts in late 2018 and early 2019, with over 40 workshops geared toward the new rules. We will be sending many staff and volunteers to these classes, so that we can continue to provide top-notch rules administration at our championships as well as all of our members and allied associations.

And speaking of our staff, I want to thank them for their continued hard work and dedication to the IGA and it's membership. They work long hours, but do it almost always with a big smile. They are a huge asset and one I don't take for granted.

As we put a bow on 2017 we are already looking forward to 2018. We have some exciting things planned and feel we have another outstanding group of host sites. So don't forget to enter some events beginning March 1 and I look forward to seeing you on the first tee.

Handicap Committee Report

Bill Eby
Committee Chair

As I'm sure many of you know, the Iowa Golf Association (IGA) and United States Golf Association (USGA) work hand-in-hand to administer Handicapping and Course Rating in the IGA region. As a licensed association we're responsible for upholding the integrity of both systems for the golfers of Iowa and that was our mission in 2017.

Last May IGA staff member Katelynn Hogenson and I represented the IGA at a USGA National Course Rating Calibration Seminar at St. Charles Country Club in St. Charles, Illinois. As a licensed association this is required once per rating cycle (2016-2017). The seminar spanned two days and consisted of an individual test, classroom-style education, graded on-course rating exercise and assessment review. The purpose of the "calibration" is to do exactly that, standardize the way courses are rated on a global level.

At the state level we had a quiet year with 11 full ratings and eight partial. The IGA has five rating teams and over 50 volunteers located in various regions of the state including Panora, Cedar Rapids, Des Moines, Pella and the Quad Cities. These "raters" prepare forms, visit clubs, gather measurements, evaluate obstacles and produce rating data for the IGA. They are the lifeblood of the Course Rating System in Iowa and allow the IGA staff to provide a top-notch service to clubs and individuals.

St. Charles Country Club in St. Charles, Illinois hosted the USGA National Course Rating Calibration Seminar. The image above is of the unique six hole Quarry Course.

In addition to the IGA benefits provided through the Course Rating System, the Handicap System allows us to connect with thousands of golfers in Iowa and western Illinois through the IGA Individual Membership program (tracked through GHIN)... 20,304 to be exact! Most individual members join through their local golf club, but this year we had almost 300 golfers sign up through our "Join the IGA Online" program. Online memberships have been available for two years and have grown in popularity by a whopping 157%. We're very excited to provide a convenient option for our members and we hope to see continued growth in 2018 and beyond.

If you have any questions about Course Rating or the Handicap System I invite you to contact the IGA staff in Ankeny. They field numerous inquiries each year on these topics and are happy to assist in any way possible.

Best wishes for your 2018 season!

Communications Committee Report

Tom Newbanks
Committee Chair

The Iowa Golf Association kept busy again this year providing lots of information to golfers around the state. From tournament results, to USGA updates, to full coverage before, during and following the Solheim Cup, the IGA continued to be the source for anything 'golf' in the state of Iowa.

With a new look to the website, revealed earlier in 2017, over 60,000 individuals visited the website itself, viewing almost 400,000 pages and many more checking in on IGA tournament results, including live scoring at many of the IGA events. The IGA's social media footprint, with following from across the country, continues to grow with over 1,600 likes on Facebook (up from 1,200 a year ago) and just over 2,100 followers on Twitter (up from just under 1,900 a year ago).

The Communication Committee was once again honored to recommend the following recipients of IGA Annual Awards in the six different categories to the Board of Directors. Those included the following: 18 and 9-Hole Course of the Year, 18 and 9-Hole Superintendent of the Year, Club Manager of the Year and Professional of the Year.

To see more about the Annual Award winners turn to page 11-12.

18-Hole Course of the Year - Des Moines Golf & Country Club

DMGCC staff and the membership left no stone unturned in order to make the Soheim Cup one for the ages. The course was renovated from 2013-2016 under the supervision of Pete Dye and his associate, Tim Liddy. These upgrades, as part of the multi-year project at the club, have elevated the facility at DMGCC to even higher levels.

9-Hole Course of the Year - Algona Country Club

The club, which was designed by the famous Willie Dunn, Jr. (also designed Shinnecock Hills Golf Club, among others) and opened for play in 1917, features nine holes of golf with rolling hills and blind shots from bluegrass fairways into bent grass greens. Spanning roughly 60 acres, ACC has added several new members over the past year and continues to grow the game of golf.

18-Hole Superintendent of the Year - Matt Hall - Burlington Golf Club

Matt Hall, who enters his third year at BGC, has elevated the club's course conditions even higher than previously seen according to members. He has dealt with countless trees inflicted with Emerald Ashe Boarer, replaced all the sprinkler heads on the course, replaced an irrigation pump and installed new drainage to problematic areas on the lower portion of the course.

9-Hole Superintendent of the Year - Garrett Yager - Urbandale Golf & CC

Garrett Yager has been at Urbandale Golf & Country Club for the past nine years. He is a superintendent who is devoted to producing the best golf course he can and is very hands on with the course, equipment and his staff. He always finds a way to solve a problem and is always looking for ways to make improvements.

Club Manager of the Year - Julianna Burkholder - Rice Lake Golf & Country Club

Burkholder, according to her nomination, is extremely hard working and continues to strive to bring the best atmosphere possible to the club. She is the first one you will see at the club in the morning and the last one to leave at night. "None come close to doing as good of job as Julie does," one Rice Lake G&CC member stated.

Professional of the Year - Dustin Toner - Cedar Rapids Country Club

The future of the game is very strong at CRCC thanks to Toner. He has established a vibrant and innovative junior golf program that has been very popular with the membership. With a full tee sheet of play, CRCC has seen a tangible economic effect as well, generating golf-related business throughout the club.

George Turner Distinguished Service Award - Judy McCarty

Judy McCarty was directly involved in nearly all areas of the Iowa Women's Golf Association. Her enthusiasm to make a difference has been felt by all who come to know her. According to close friend Jill Blackwood "Judy did so many behind the scenes things that she never got credit for.... When I was President she was my right arm."

Volunteer of the Year - Sean Flanders

J.D. Anderson Wins First Mid-Amateur

After years of coming close J. D. Anderson was a popular victor when he claimed his first IGA individual title at the 32nd Iowa Mid-Amateur at Beaver Hills Country Club in Cedar Falls.

J. D. is one of the most consistent competitors on the Iowa circuit and has finished runner-up twice in the Mid-Am and twice in the IGA Match Play. He has finished in the top five of the IGA Player of the Year list nine times in the last fifteen years, never lower than thirteenth.

Anderson of Johnston, holed out for eagle on the second and birdied the third, to pull away early in the second round. His goal was to stay aggressive, and he notched four more birdies for a round of 67 (-5) and a 138 two-day total (-6), to win by four.

“This means a lot,” Anderson said. “I am really happy. I had a lot more nerves today than I expected, because of what it meant. The bigger goal is to win all three IGA Majors, the Mid-Am, Match Play and Iowa Amateur.”

Anderson said his quick start to the round helped calm him early on: “I was forced to lay up on two and then holed out,” Anderson said. “Then I made a 15-foot putt on three and that settled the nerves. It was a solid day. I got away with some bad shots. My main focus was to stay aggressive. I assumed someone from behind was keeping pace, so I wanted to keep making birdies.

Anderson, who assumed another ‘low’ round was out there in a group ahead of him, was right. Dusty Drenth (Davenport) put together his own magic, firing a tournament low 66 (-6), but Anderson was too far ahead. Drenth was able to birdie three of the four par 5s which was three better than the previous round. He got hot during the middle of the round making birdies on 6, 7, 9, 10, 11 with two more on 15 and 18. His lone bogey came at the downhill par 3, 17th which was the only blemish of the day. Drenth's two day total of 142 (-2) placed him in 2nd, four shots back.

J.D. Anderson etches his name on the Michael McCoy Mid-Amateur Trophy. J.D. finished the two day Championship with a total score of 138 (-6).

Dusty Drenth's final round 66 was low for the tournament, but not quite enough to catch Anderson. Drenth finished in second place, four shots off the lead.

J.D. Anderson holds his finish on the 18th hole of the final round. He would go on to win by four.

Joe Palmer Wins Senior Division!

West Des Moines' Joe Palmer battled back after an opening round 75 to post two under-par 70. Palmer commented that he had not seen or played the course in a long time but was able to put together a good round.

"I made some mistakes in the first round," Palmer said. "Today I played better. My goal was to get it back to par. I thought if I shot 69 that would make the leaders have to shoot something under par too. I really didn't know how I stood until the last putt."

This title adds a new accomplishment to the résumé for Palmer: "This trophy is one I had never won, this one and the State Amateur," Palmer said. "I have been fortunate to get the others, now I just need to concentrate and see what we can do at the Iowa Amateur."

Joe Palmer fires a final round 70 to win the Senior Division by four.

Elliott & McCoy Win It Again

Palmer & Cook Come from Behind

For the third year in a row and fourth overall, Gene Elliott and Mike McCoy were victorious at the IGA Four-Ball Championship. The duo used a second round 63 (-9) to storm back from being two shots behind entering the final round. Their 128 total (-16) was two ahead of the team of George Qian and Jack Kennedy who shot a pair of 65s. "Gene was terrific today," McCoy said. "He made a beautiful birdie on our last hole, which we felt we needed." The final round was delayed for a short period due to rain and lightning but the natural sand base of Bent Tree Golf Club drained extremely well.

In the Senior Division, the team of Joe Palmer and Terry Cook made a comeback of their own. They posted a final round of 60 (-12), 127 overall (-17). The pair stormed back after being six strokes off the pace entering the final round. "I owe a lot of credit to Terry," Palmer said. "The turning point was when we made eagle on hole 12 and they made bogey. We went from two down to one up and we put the pedal down. We birdied three of the next four and never let (Holck and Watson) them up." Holck and Watson, who led after an opening round 61 (-11) would finish second, two strokes back at 129 (-15).

Elliott Goes Back-To-Back at IGA Senior Match Play

Tom Norton (L) and Gene Elliott

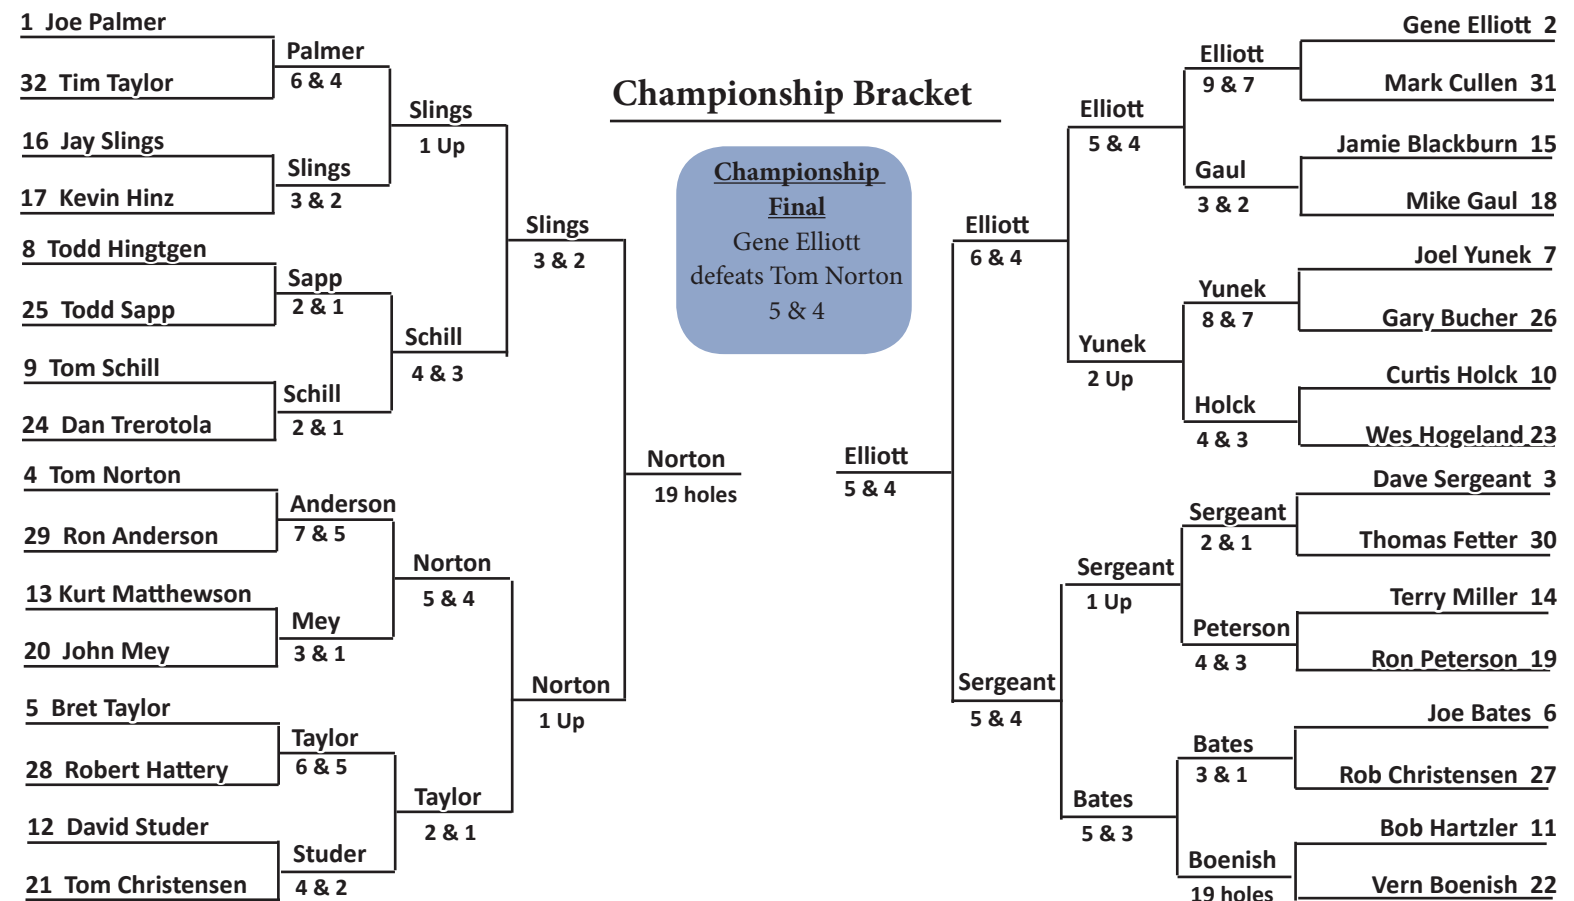

Gene Elliott never played the 15th hole at Fort Dodge Country Club during this year's IGA Senior Match Play. "That was the key for me," Elliott said jokingly.

In the final match, against Tom Norton, Elliott found himself in unfamiliar territory, two down through four holes. Elliott would win the fifth hole with a par and then would rattle off four straight birdies on holes 7-10 to take a commanding three up lead. Elliott would add two more birdies, six total in an eight-hole stretch, to close out Norton 5&4.

The win marks the second year in a row that Elliott has won this event and his third IGA Senior Match Play title overall.

In the President's Bracket Final, Edwin Evans defeated John Brooke 4 & 2. Evans mentioned that he was able to get off to a nice start and not make too many mistakes as the morning went along at Fort Dodge Country Club.

Buerman Victorious

Julie Buerman of Cedar Rapids won her final match against Kelly Nelson of Waterloo, finishing first in the championship flight at the Forever 39 Match Play Championship at Stone Creek Golf Course in Williamsburg, Iowa.

Buerman shot a one over 37 in the stroke play round during the morning of the first day, putting her just one stroke behind the leader Nelson and giving her the second seed in the Championship Flight. That afternoon she went on to win her first match against Robin Webb of Clive with a 2 up finish after the ninth hole.

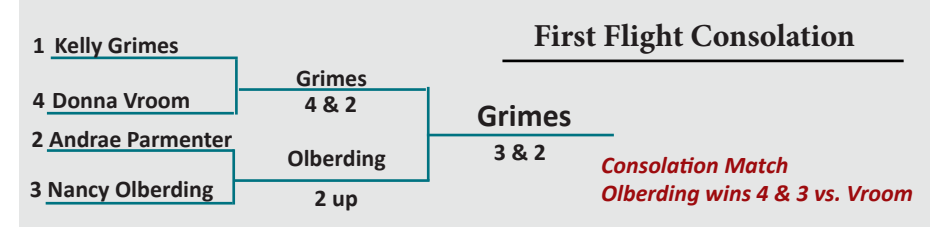

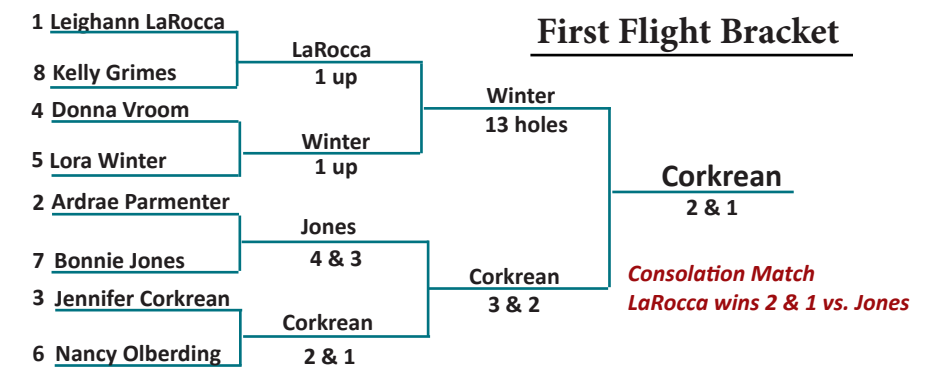

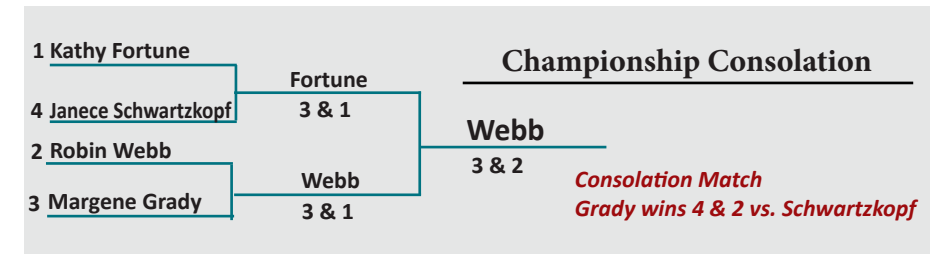

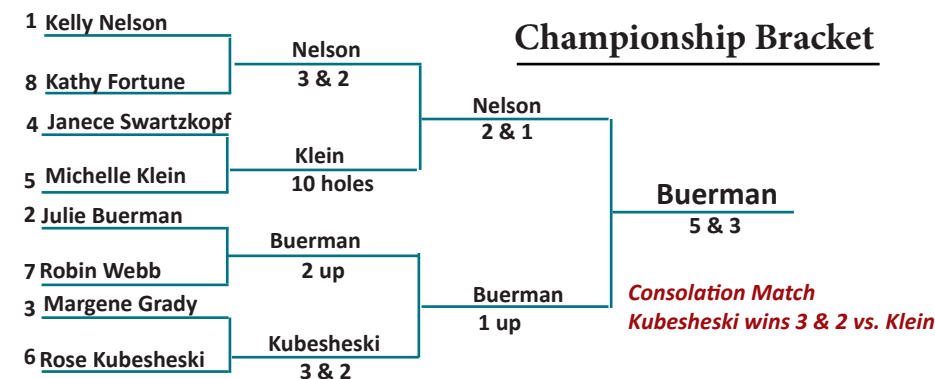

She continued to dominate on the second day and won her morning match against Rose Kubesheski of Dubuque 1up. Despite windy conditions in the afternoon, Buerman was able to win her final match against Nelson 5 & 3. Her final score was a four-under 32 and the course record at Stone Creek Golf Club.

Jennifer Corkrean of Ankeny was the champion of the first flight after beating out Lora Winter of Walford in the final match 2 & 1. Nicki Clayton of Greenfield won the second flight with a 4 & 2 final match against Mary Nelson of Ankeny.

The 2018 IGA Forever 39 Match Play Championship will be played at Mason City Country Club, June 11-12. We look forward to seeing you all there!

The 2017 IGA Father-Son and Parent-Child Championship took place at Jester Park Golf Course on June 17-18. In recent years this event has taken place over Father's Day weekend and continues to be one of the most enjoyable events of the year – for both competitors and IGA staff.

However a bit of strategy must be taken into account due to the modified alternate shot format, which is used for the event, as one player will tee off the even holes while the other will tee off the odd.

While champions are crowned in several divisions at the conclusion of the event, the memories made at every corner of the course are the highlight of the year for many.

Close Finish at Iowa Junior Amateur

Andrew Wood battled back to win the 2017 Iowa Junior Amateur Championship. The 18-year old from Marion shot a final round 74 at Coldwater Golf Links in Ames to best first round leader Jake Marvelli by a single shot.

Marvelli, 17, of Indianola, shot an opening round even-par 71 while Wood fashioned an opening 75. And while Wood got off to a hot start in round two, birdieing the first two holes, Marvelli suffered a triple bogey on the second hole. That swing gave Wood the lead that he would not relinquish.

In the 14 to 15 age division, Cole Davis of Marshalltown defeated Connor Van Weelden of Ames in a playoff. Davis, 15, shot rounds of 74-75 while Van Weelden, 15, fired 73-76.

Davis' final round 75 was especially impressive when you consider the poor start he had to the day. He made a triple-bogey (7) on the opening hole then made bogeys at 2 and 4 before a birdie at 5 got him settled. He would play the next eleven holes in two-under before a pair of bogeys to finish the round.

In the youngest age division, 11 and under, the players only play 9 holes. Evan Smith, 11, of Knoxville captured the trophy with a very impressive 42 over the front 9. Gavin Drake of Urbandale, at age 9, was runner-up with a 60.

Brooke Boardman Cruises to Victory

For the second straight year, the champion of the Iowa Girls' Junior Amateur was the runner-up the previous year. Karli Kerrigan moved from runner-up to champion in 2016. This time, Brooke Boardman of Waukee accomplished the feat as she won in blowout fashion at Coldwater Golf Links in Ames.

Boardman, 16, followed an opening 82 with a final round 78 to win by 22 strokes. Boardman's final round featured three birdies through her first 14 holes, before finishing with two bogeys and a double. But with a lead like she had, you can understand how concentration might slip a little coming home.

Casey Noble, 17, of Morning Sun, finished runner-up. Noble shot two rounds of 91.

Ashley DeLong was impressive in her victory in the 14 to 15 age division. The 15-year old from Clear Lake shot a pair of 89s over the difficult layout. She was very consistent both days, mixing mostly pars and bogeys throughout her rounds.

Maura Peters and Rebecca DeLong battled for the title in the 12 to 13 age division. Peters, 12, of Bettendorf, would ultimately come out on top. She shot a 104 during her 18-holes while DeLong, 12, of Clear Lake, put together a 107.

Meghan DeLong, 11, of Clear Lake, fired a solid 49 over the front 9 holes at Coldwater to win the 11 and under division. Her play was highlighted by pars at the 1st and 5th holes.

Kinney wins 29th IGA Match Play

The 29th IGA Match Play Championship began on Monday, June 26, at The Harvester Golf Club in Rhodes. All players played an 18-hole qualifying round to determine seeding into match play. A total of 77 players participated in the qualifying round.

Gene Elliott was medalist of the qualifying round with 66 (-6) and earned the first seed into match play the following morning. J.D. Anderson, playing alongside Elliott during the qualifying round, earned the second seed with a 67 (-5) of his own.

Those surviving the opening day of matches and into the quarterfinal were are Jon Olson, Josh Black, Tripp Kinney, Sam Zoske, Charles Jahn, Jon Brown, Conner Koberg and Aaron Stevens.

In the semifinals Tripp Kinney defeated Josh Black (5 & 4) and Conner Koberg outlasted Jon Brown (1 up). Both Kinney and Koberg, who squared off in the finals, play golf for Iowa State University.

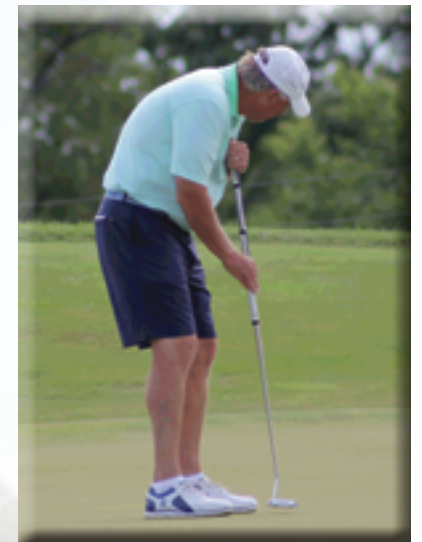

In the finals of the IGA Match Play, Kinney used a quick start to race to a 3-up lead after only five holes. He made the turn 4-up and never looked back, cruising to a 6 & 5 victory over his good friend and teammate, Koberg.

Kinney commented after his victory that his mindset from the start to the end never changed.

“My goal this week was to just stay steady through all my matches,” Kinney said. “I just wanted to make a ton of pars. I did a really good job sticking to my game plan. It’s a tough golf course and it got windy.”

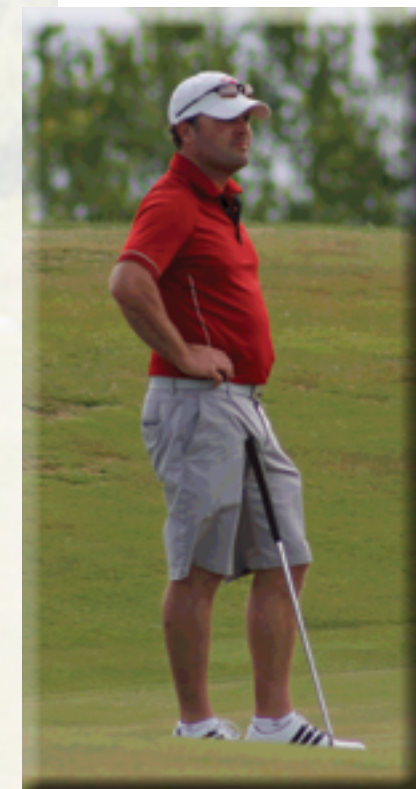

(L) Josh Black reading a putt on the 2nd hole. He made it to the semifinals where he would falls to eventual champion Tripp Kinney.

(R) Gene Elliott earned medalist honors in the qualifying round with a 6-under par 66 and battled his way to the round of 16.

Emily Snelling Takes Home the Title

Runner-up Tenley Moretti (L) and Champion Emily Snelling

The 6th IGA Women's Match Play brought an exciting finish. Although newcomers to most, Tenley Moretti of Ankeny and Emily Snelling of Clear Lake were not unfamiliar with each other.

They both have been dominate players in the high school ranks with multiple Iowa State High School Championships under their belts. Earlier in the summer they finished just two shots apart at the 42nd Iowa PGA Junior Championship where Snelling was able to edge out Moretti for the win.

It seemed fitting that they would again meet in the final match at The Harvester Golf Club.

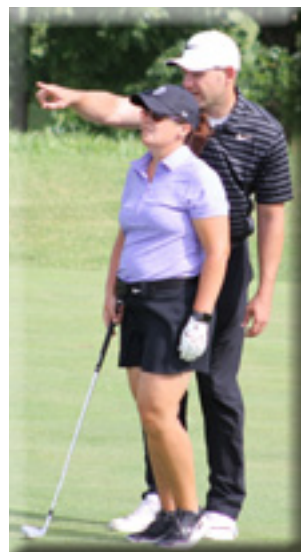

The match was a contested battle, back and forth, but Snelling was able to pull away, winning the 16th hole to close out the match 3 & 2 and earn the title of champion!

Jenny Heinz, who had won the 2016 IGA Women's Match Play, fired a round of 80 in qualifying to secure medalist honors. She would go on to be defeated in the quarterfinals against her friend and four-ball partner Karli Kerrigan 2 & 1.

Julie Buerman who had won the Forever 39 Match Play would win her first two matches against Kelly Grimes and Elise Warne before being defeated in the semifinals against Tenley Moretti.

Iowa Victorious Again at Girls' 4-State

Wichita Country Club - Wichita, Kansas

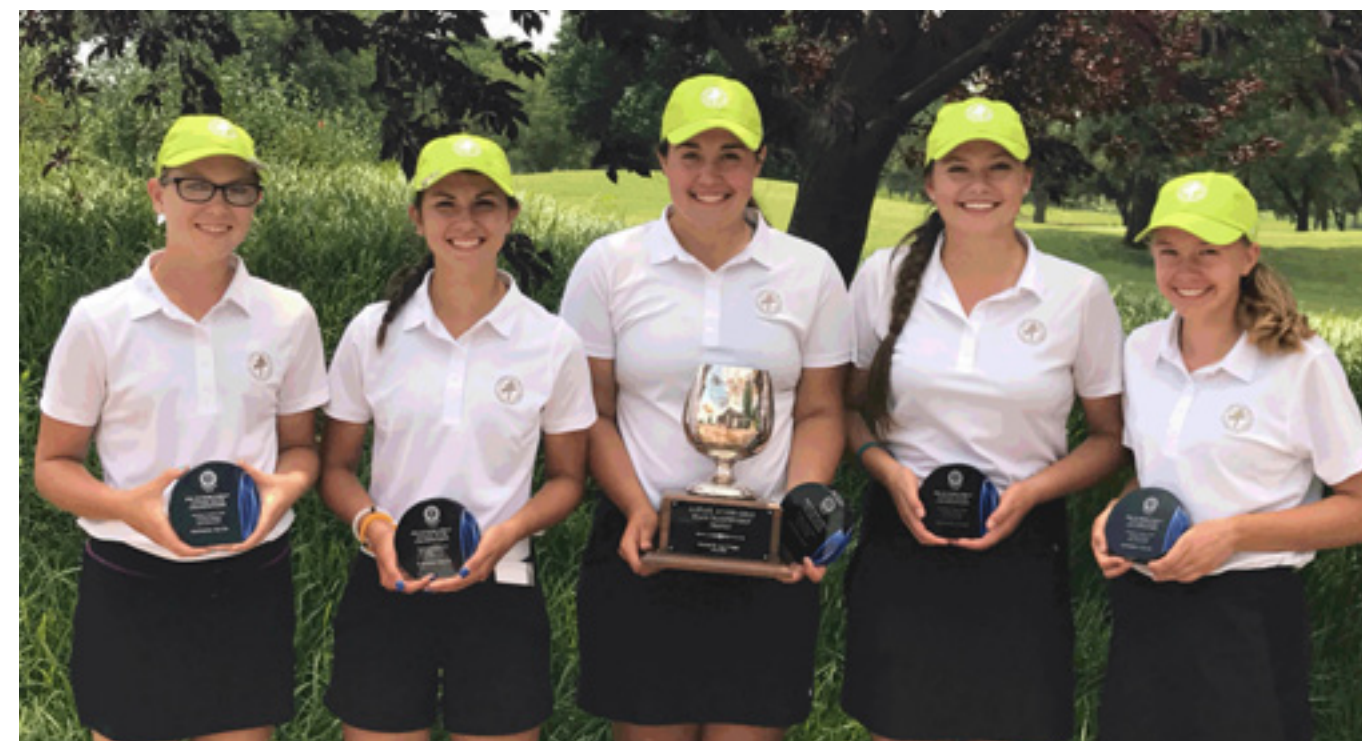

For the second year in a row Team Iowa closed out Kansas, Missouri and Nebraska to claim the Junior Girls' 4-State Championship.

After the first round of play at Wichita Country Club, Team Iowa combined for a 315 total led by Hannah Bermel with a 6-over par 77. Sarah Nacos and Paige Hoffman both carded a 79, while Sydney Eaton (80) and Casey Noble (85) rounded out the group.

Team Iowa capitalized on perfect scoring conditions in the second round two and improved on their team total by 12 strokes, finishing with a 618. Team Kansas took a step backwards with their team total of 315 and finished in second place overall at 628.

Julia Misemer of Overland Park, Kan. took medalist honors with a 77-74—151 total.

The Junior Girls' 4-State Championship is composed of a golf team from Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas and Missouri. Each team consists of five girls and two coaches from each state. The four low scores of each team are added each day and totaled after the second day to determine the winner. The low two-day total score determines the medalist.

Kubesheski Wins Third in a Row

When the dust had settled in Clarinda, a familiar face was still sheriff of the territory.

For the third year in a row and sixth time overall, Rose Kubesheski took home the trophy from the 52nd Iowa Senior Women's Amateur. The win would also secure the 2017 IGA Senior Women's Player of the Year award for Kubesheski, her fourth overall and second in a row.

Following an opening round 78 (+9), where she was unable to convert any birdies, Kubesheski entered the second round two shots back of opening-round leader Kathy Fortune (76). Fortune was steady in the opening round, making 13 pars.

Kubesheski rebounded on day two, making a total of three birdies on her way to a final round 73 (+4), to outdistance Fortune by six strokes.

Clarinda Country Club is known for its tight fairways and challenging approach shots. Hitting it close with her short irons was the key for the champion as missing a green meant a very difficult up-and-down.

When Kubesheski was asked about what allowed her to have such a successful round she responded by saying "I hit some really good wedge shots today."

The Iowa Senior Women's Amateur will be played at Sunnyside Country Club August 27-28, 2018.

(SS) denotes Super Senior

Janece Schwartzkopf (left) finished 3rd overall and earned low Super Senior. (R) Kathy Fortune finished runner-up in the Open Division.

Janece Schwartzkopf outlasts field to win Super Senior

Turning in a second round 74 (+5) was just enough for Janece Schwartzkopf to capture the Super Senior Division of the 52nd Iowa Women's Senior Amateur. The Super Senior Division is made up of ages 60 & over participants.

Schwartzkopf, who trailed Jennifer Corkrean (79) by five shots after the opening round, made a charge on day two to overtake both Corkrean and Janis Owens, who was in second place after her first round with an 80 of her own. Corkrean would slip to 84 in the final round to finish third, while Owens shot 81, leaving her a shot back of Schwartzkopf.

Schwartzkopf's final round included a healthy dose of pars (11) and no double-bogey or worse scores on the scorecard.

Twice as nice for Kerrigan and Heinz

Karli Kerrigan (L) and Jenny Heinz smile brightly after a final round 67 to win by six.

Jenny Heinz and Karli Kerrigan enjoyed their second consecutive IGA Women's Four-Ball win. The duo won the IGA Women's Four-Ball last year at Jester Park Golf Course, where they won in extra holes. This year at Coralville's Brown Deer Golf Club there were no extra holes needed.

Heinz, who was the Women's Player of the Year in 2016 and Kerrigan, who is heading into her sophomore year at the University of South Dakota broke out of the gates fast. They shot an opening round 65 (-6) to take a four shot lead. They followed that up with a 67 (-4) for a total of 132 (-10). With the help of 11 birdies over the two day event, Heinz and Kerrigan won the Open Division by a convincing six strokes over the team of Katie Hansen and Kelly Nelson, who finished at 138 (-4).

Hansen and Nelson, both from Waterloo, shot back-to-back rounds of 69 to outdistance the team of Janelle Carter and Julie Buerman by three strokes for runner-up honors.

Kubesheski & Grady Win Senior Division

Rose Kubesheski continued to show her great play along with her teammate Margene Grady to win the Senior Division by eight strokes. They opened up in the first round shooting 72 (+1) giving them a two shot cushion over Kathy Fortune and Mary Sauter.

The team of Kubesheski and Grady were able to extend their lead in the second round by shooting an impressive 69 clenching the title by eight strokes. This win gave Kubesheski her second straight Four-Ball win after teaming up with Robin Webb the previous year.

Ullestad Wins 115th Iowa Amateur

Trevor Ullestad didn't get off to a great start in the final round of the Iowa Amateur, but it didn't take him long to right the ship and become the 115th Iowa Amateur champion.

Ullestad, 21, of Jewell, shot three rounds in the 60s (68-69-69) at Cedar Rapids Country Club and overcame a three shot deficit heading into the final round to win by two over Broc Everett, who began day three with the lead, and Dennis Bull.

After a routine par at the opening hole of his final round, Ullestad - who is a senior on the Missouri golf team - topped a fairway wood off the tee on the second hole, leading to a bogey. He then flubbed a pitch shot on hole three that led to another bogey. But pars on the next two holes helped settle him down, then an eagle on the short par-5 6th sent him on a roll.

He followed up his eagle with birdies at 8 and 9 to close out the front nine with a two-under-par 34. He opened the back nine with pars on the first four holes, made a bogey at 14, then birdied the 15th and 16th holes. At that point he had a two shot lead and made two pars to close out the biggest win of his young career.

Everett, 22, of West Des Moines, who could do virtually no wrong during a second round 7-under 65, couldn't get anything going on the last day. He mixed six pars and three bogeys over the front nine of his final round to fall two behind Ullestad. Then a solid back nine 35 only matched the eventual champion. Everett, who is in his senior season at Augusta University, posted a 3-under 69 in his opening round.

Bull, 35, of Norwalk, was the first round leader. He opened the championship with a 65 of his own, besting the field by three. He was unable to keep that momentum going in round two as he posted a 75 but finished strong, posting a 68 on day three. His final round featured a clean card - four birdies and zero bogeys - moving him into a tie for second.

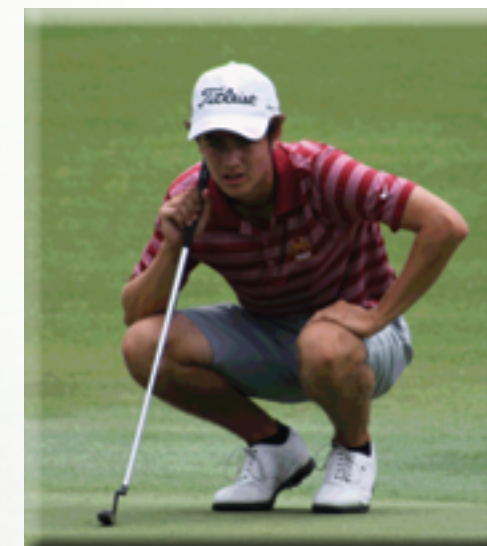

Rounding out the top five were Frank Lindwall, 18, of Marion, who fired rounds of 69-71-69 to finish solo fourth and Matt Walker, 20, of Ottumwa (5th). Walker, who is in his junior season at Iowa, shot 74-67-71 over the three days. Lindwall is in his freshman season at Iowa State.

Cedar Rapids Country Club is the only Donald Ross-designed course in Iowa. The club underwent an extensive renovation the past few years, which has been universally praised. It was the fifth time the club has hosted the Iowa Amateur overall and first since 1984.

Snyder Etches Name in History

Britta Snyder accentuated three days of beautiful weather with three days of wonderful golf during the 2017 Iowa Women's Amateur. Snyder, of Ames, shot even-par (216) to win by a staggering 13 shots at Hyperion Field Club in Johnston. At only 15 years old, she became the second-youngest person to win the Iowa Women's Amateur. The only younger was Edith Estabrooks, who won at age 14 in 1935.

Snyder took control of the championship in the second round. After an opening round 73 that left her one shot back, she fired a 2-under-par 70 to vault to the lead. Her second round was three shots better than the next-best that day, and eight shots better than first round leader Maddie Bertsch, of Robins. She now entered the final round with a seven shot lead over Bertsch, who was still the nearest challenger.

The youngster would only increase the lead throughout the final round. In fact, a par on the first hole helped her add three shots right away. From there, she never looked back. Her closing 73 was once again the best score of the day, this time by two over the 75 posted by Leanne Smith.

When all was said and done, Snyder would post nine birdies during the 54-hole championship, against seven bogeys and a double bogey to finish on even par. It was very steady and, according to the champion, sometimes uninteresting golf.

"I think sticking to my game plan worked," Snyder said. "I didn't hit very many drivers. I just tried to hit fairways and keep it under the hole on these greens. I just hit a lot of shots to the middle of the green and two putted from there. It was boring, but good golf."

Smith, of Indianola, and Bertsch would ultimately tie for second (+13).

In the Open Division Janece Schwartzkopf, of Stuart, came from three shots down in the final round to edge Hyperion member Kari Manning by one.

Manning, of Urbandale, entered the final round with a two shot lead over Kathy Fortune, of Rockwell City, and three clear of Schwartzkopf. But Schwartzkopf put together a final round 80 that was four better than Manning and seven clear of Fortune to claim the title. It was the second straight win for Schwartzkopf in the Open Division of the Iowa Women's Amateur.

Maddie Bertsch was the first round leader at even par. She would go on to finish T2 with Leanne Smith.

In the Net Division, Des Moines Golf and Country Club edged out HRGC by a single shot, 217-218. DMGCC was led by overall Individual Net Division winner Kelly Dettbarn, who posted a net 65 (-6). DMGCC's team included Barb Burley, Amy Fox, Leighann LaRocca and Dettbarn.

The format of the event similar to a college or high school event, in which an IGA Member Club submits a team of four women to play. There was both a gross and net competition, with the best three of four 18-hole gross or net scores counting for the team score, respectively. Overall, a total of 16 IGA Member Clubs participated in the event.

Jennings Earns Low Professional

Iowa State graduate, Nick Voke slammed the door on the field during the final round of the Herman Sani Tournament. The New Zealander, who has since turned pro, put together a blistering 5-under-par (66) score in the final round at Echo Valley Country Club to win by three over his former teammate, and fellow Kiwi, Denzel Ieremia.

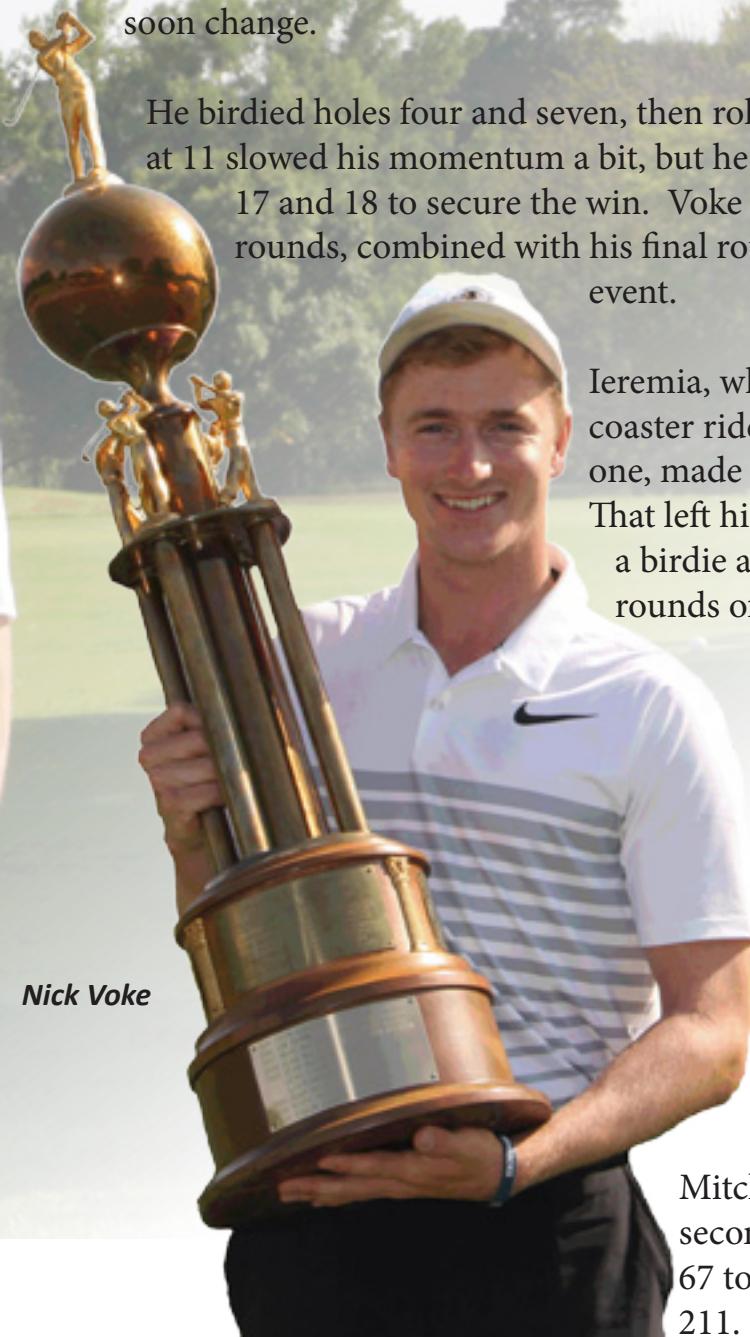

Voke entered the final round in third, four shots behind professional Matt Jennings of Prairie City and three behind Ieremia. The trophy looked out of reach after a bogey at the 2nd, but that would soon change.

He birdied holes four and seven, then rolled in an eagle on the par-5 9th to turn in 33. A bogey at 11 slowed his momentum a bit, but he finished like a true champion, making birdies on 15, 17 and 18 to secure the win. Voke posted a pair of 69s to open the championship. Those rounds, combined with his final round 66, left him at 9-under for the 54-hole stroke play event.

Ieremia, who is now a senior at Iowa State, had a bit of a roller-coaster ride to his final round. He opened with a double bogey at one, made birdie at four, double bogey at five and then birdie at six. That left him at two-over for the day, where he would remain until a birdie at the last gave him a final round 72. All in all, he shot rounds of 66-69-72 to finish on 6-under par and three back.

Jennings could never get positive momentum going during his final round. He played steady golf on the opening 9 holes, posting an even-par 36, but ultimately was done-in by a triple-bogey (8) on the 15th. When all was said and done, he would only post one birdie (9) during his final round, finishing with 66-68-76 (3-under) to finish six back of Voke. The silver lining for Jennings was, because Voke and Ieremia were both amateurs, he still took home the first place check as the low professional.

Mitch Tucker, a pro from Oskaloosa, put together the second-best final round (behind Voke's 66) posting a 4-under 67 to finish in solo fourth. He posted a 2-under par total of 211.

Palmer Wins by One

Joe Palmer of West Des Moines claimed the Senior Division of the Herman Sani Tournament at Echo Valley Country Club, and did so in dramatic fashion.

Palmer made a birdie on the final hole of the final round to hold off Curtis Holck of Ankeny and Rob Dickerman of Marion by one shot. Dickerman also birdied the 18th hole in the final round.

Palmer, who won the senior title the first time the event was played at Echo Valley CC in 2013, came into the final round leading Holck by one. Dickerman and Terry Cook of West Des Moines trailed by three.

Joe Palmer

Palmer seemingly took complete control at the outset of the last day with a front nine 3-under 33. But a few stumbles during the back nine combined with some birdies by Holck and Dickerman made things tight down the stretch. Ultimately, Palmer and Holck came to the final hole tied, with Dickerman a shot back. The champion's birdie proved to be the difference.

Palmer finished at 3-under-par 210 (72-68-70) with Holck (71-70-70) and Dickerman (75-67-69) finishing at 2-under-par 211. Cook was alone in fourth at 1-over par 214 (73-69-72), while Bret Taylor of Booneville rounded out the top five with a 2-over-par 215 (77-70-68).

Elliott Wins Third Senior Title

West Des Moines' Gene Elliott got off to a hot start and never looked in the rear view mirror until late in the final round of the 39th Iowa Senior Amateur. Elliott blistered Burlington Golf Club for a 66 (-6) to win by eight shots over Burlington's Scott Briggs and Muscatine's Tom Norton. Elliott opened the championship with rounds of 69-75.

"I played very well today," Elliott said. "I have played nine days in a row (counting rounds at the U.S. Senior Amateur in Minnesota). That's a lot of golf for me."

Truth be told, Elliott, after being defeated in the Round of 32 at the U.S. Senior Amateur, forgot he was actually still entered in the Iowa Senior Amateur.

"I almost wasn't here for several different reasons," Elliott admitted. "I totally forgot it (Iowa Senior Amateur) after I got beat. I was so shell-shocked from losing my match. My wife and a good friend, John Harris, told me to just come down here and get it out your system. Fortunately things worked out."

The win marks a second consecutive victory after winning it at Ames Golf & Country Club the previous year and third overall.

Christensen Wins Super Senior Division

It came down to the final few holes, literally, for the 2017 Iowa Senior Amateur Super Senior Division title and ultimately the first-ever IGA Super Senior Player of the Year.

Entering the final round at Burlington Golf Club, a trio of golfers shared the lead at 147 (+3). Tied at the top were Jim Butler (Ft. Madison), John Peters (Muscatine) and Rob Christensen (Marshalltown). Ft. Dodge's Dave Sergeant sat four back of the lead. Sergeant and Christensen represented 1st and 2nd in the IGA Super Senior Men's Player of the Year standings entering the final round.

When the dust had settled Christensen fought off a hard-charging Butler to win by a single stroke, 220-221. Christensen's final round included a pair of birdies to offset his three bogies. Butler, who went out in 40, came storming back with a 34 on the back and admitted he simply ran out of holes.

Burkholders Prove Tough to Beat

Fredericksens Win Playoff for Super Senior Title

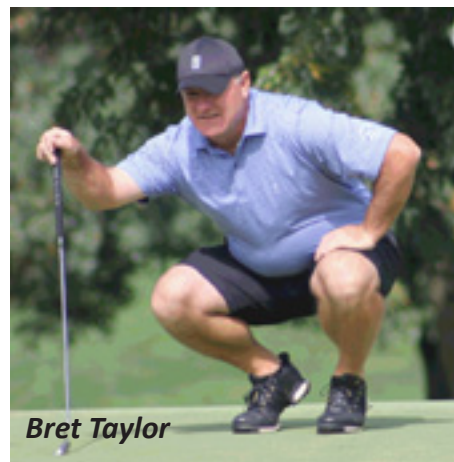

Forest City's Julianna and Reed Burkholder played 36 holes of fantastic golf to win the 57th Iowa Wife-Husband Championship contested at Lake Panorama National Golf Club. The Burkholders posted back-to-back rounds of 69, (-6) to win by eight strokes over Jeff and Molly Cleven of Cumming.

Their opening round of 69, (-3) included six birdies of which three of those were on the the par 5s. They had one hiccup on the par 4, fourteenth hole where they made a double bogey.

The Burkholders got off to a quick start in round two, going birdie-eagle on the first two holes. From there the couple cruised to their eventual eight-shot victory. This marks the first outright victory in the event for the Burkholders as they shared the title in 2015.

Tied for third place were Chris and Peggy Garrett and newlyweds Julie and Aaron Stevens who shot 149 (+5).

Bret Taylor

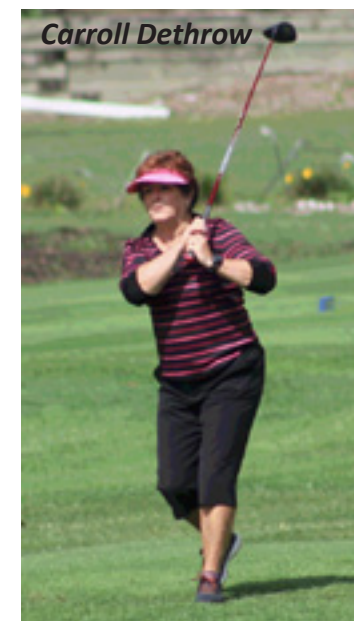

The Super Senior Division offered much excitement. Jeanette and Raymond Fredericksen of Cedar Falls shot consistent rounds of 79-80 (+15) to tie Char and Steve Maaske of DeWitt shooting 80-79 (+15). To decide the winner both teams went to the first hole for a sudden death playoff, which was the only hole the Fredericksens needed for the win.

Finishing third were first round co-leaders, Carroll and John Dethrow of Nevada. They shot rounds of 79-83, (+18).

The local team from Panora, Carla and Tim Fitzgerald finished fourth shooting 87-77, (+20). They shot the lowest round of the tournament in the Super Senior Division with a 77.

Team Iowa Nearly Overtakes Nebraska

The Director's Cup Matches are goodwill matches that began in 2000. Originally they were called the Tri-State Director's Cup Matches and featured teams from Iowa, Kansas and Nebraska. In 2015 Missouri was added, thus dropping "Tri" from the name of the event. They are held on the years opposite the USGA Men's State Team Championship.

Teams are made up of six individuals. The top four players in the standings automatically are invited. The remaining two players are chosen as "Director's picks" by the IGA Executive Director. Points are calculated using 50 percent of the prior year's Player of the Year point totals and 100 percent of the current year point total. Points were accumulated through August 13 (end of Herman Sani Tournament).

Des Moines Golf & Country Club Win Gross Division

Prairie Links Golf Course Win Net Division

Adverse conditions on a challenging, yet fair golf course were the storylines at the 12th IGA Club Team Championship at Blue Top Ridge at Riverside. A close contest with both the Gross and Net Divisions ensued.

In something out of a movie, Des Moines Golf & CC (2) edged their fellow club members from DMG by a single shot 218-219. The team of Luke Miller, Ben Herrera, Patrick Breitbach and Alex Bair formed the winning team from DMG. That team accounted for a total of 'counting' 13 birdies on the day. In the Gross Division, the low three scores of the four are counted.

The runner-up team from DMG consisted of the quartet of Matt Weresh, Jamie Faidley, Josh Janeczko and Robert Wahlert. Ottumwa Country Club finished in third place at 227 (+11). Jeff Collett, Aaron O'Brien, Dusty Stewart and Steve Wetrich represented Ottumwa Country Club. Finishing in fourth place was Fort Dodge Country Club, consisting of Kevin Ault, Eddie Doyle Tom Schill and Ryan Reeder.

In the Net Division, Prairie Links Golf Course shot 209 (-7) to win by three over Dyersville Country Club (2). Prairie Links GC's team consisted of Chris Wagner, Patrick Sexton, Tony Wagner and William Buss. The winner were able to put 15 net birdies and four net eagles on the card. In the Net Division, the three low scores (net) on each hole are counted towards the team total.

The runner-up team, posting 212 (-4), in the Net Division from Dyersville included Chance Maiers, Larry Olberding, Tom Olberding and Tyler Engelken. They were able to make a total of ten net birdies and an eagle on the day. A trio of teams, including Dyersville CC (1), Ottumwa CC and Willow Run CC, tied for third place at 215 (-1).

Just Pansegrau, of St. Andrews Golf Course, was the low individual with a 69 (-3), including a sizzling 31 on the back nine. Miller (DMG 2) and Ault (Ft. Dodge CC) finished tied for second overall with a score of 71 (-1).

Four Qualify for U.S. Open Sectional

Spirit Hollow Golf Course in Burlington certainly provided a U.S. Open-like test for the 64 competitors who teed it up at the local qualifier.

In the end, four players advanced to the sectional stage. Michael Wuertz, a professional from Davenport, was the medalist with a two under-par 70. Next was amateur Andrew O'Brien and professional Michael Roters, who fashioned even-par 72. The fourth and final qualifying spot went to Lamoni's Matt Mickelson (pro), who won a three-way playoff after almost ending the playoff on the first hole (#1) by hitting it to within inches for a tap-in birdie.

Medalist, Michael Wuertz

First and second alternates, who joined Mickelson in the playoff for the final qualifying spot, went to Trent Lindenman (New Sharon) and J.D. Anderson (Johnston), respectively. Lindeman was eliminated after Mickelson made birdie on the third playoff hole (both players pared the second playoff hole, #18), while Anderson's par on the first sent him back to the clubhouse.

Competitors faced a golf course that stretched over 7,300 yards with thick bluegrass rough, which presented difficult recovery shots for those who didn't find the fairway.

"It was tough out there," Wuertz said of the course. "I thought 70 was a safe number no matter what and not have to worry at all. I am glad I didn't have to sweat it out. I was able to get up-and-down most of the day when I did miss a green. I even used the same ball all day long."

Two Iowans Represent the State at Salem Country Club

Mike McCoy, 54, participated in his fifth U.S. Senior Open at Salem Country Club in Massachusetts in late June. Unfortunately, the West Des Moines insurance executive missed the cut for just the second time (first was in his first appearance).

McCoy posted an opening round 79, which basically sealed his fate. But he did come back strong in round two, shooting a 1-under-par 69. He missed the cut by seven strokes.

Oskaloosa native Jerry Smith fared much better. He opened with a 65 then went 69, 75, 70 to finish at 1-under-par 279 and in a tie for 23rd. The finish earned the professional $32,371. Smith, 53, has qualified for the Senior Open every year he has been eligible and 2017 was his best finish to date.

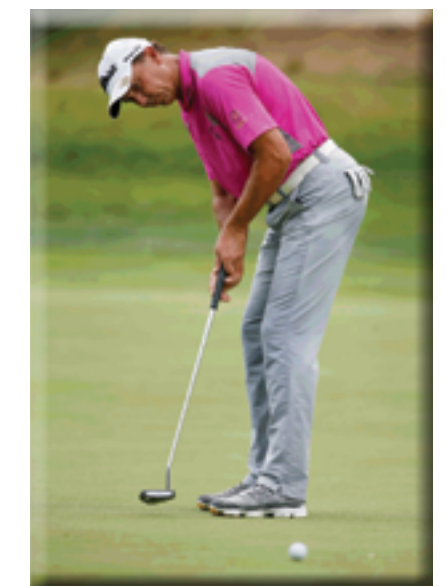

McCoy has also played in the U.S. Senior Open every year since turning 50. He made it through qualifying to earn a spot his first year. The next year, due to his win at the U.S. Mid-Amateur in the late summer of 2013, he received an exemption. He made the most of that, capturing low-amateur honors, which earned him a spot in the 2015 field. He repeated that feat, again earning low amateur status and an exemption into the 2016 field. In 2017 he was granted an exemption due to his participation on the U.S. Walker Cup team in 2015.

Two Teams Qualify for U.S. Four-Ball

Jon Brown, Clive, and Jon Olson, Ankeny, qualified for the second consecutive year for the USGA Amateur Four-Ball. After making the field at Winged Foot in 2016 they made the trek to North Carolina and famed Pinehurst in 2017.

The pair made it through a playoff for the final qualifying spot at Rush Creek Golf Club in Maple Grove, Minnesota. They were one of three teams to shoot a 7-under 65 during regulation to tie for second (64 was medalist). Their qualifier was marred with poor weather the whole day. In fact, the duo had started their playoff and, after hitting approaches to the first green, play was suspended for the day. They slept on two birdie putts and, when they came back in the morning, Olson drained his to claim the spot.

One of the other two teams in that playoff was Taylor Sandbom of Duluth, MN and Glenn Walls of Cedar Falls, Iowa. They finished as the 1st alternate, but would eventually get the call from the USGA that they were in the field.

Britta Snyder, Ames, and Sarah Beqaj, Toronto, Canada, teamed up to qualify for the 2017 U.S. Women's Amateur Four-Ball Championship. The two became friends after being paired together at the U.S. Kids Golf World Championship and through playing AJGA events around the country.

Their journey to The Dunes Golf & Beach Club in Myrtle Beach, S.C., began in Minnesota. They played for one spot at Chaska Town Course where they were the only team to break par, shooting a 1-under 71 to beat out the next closest team by a shot.

What should be noted is that the pair were 14-years old at the time of qualifying, making them one of the youngest teams to compete.

At the Championship proper the team would post a first round score of 2-under, 70. They were near the cut line heading into the second round of stroke play and needed to shoot even par or better. The pair made a bogey on the first and a comeback birdie on the second but quickly lost three shots to par on holes eight and nine, making a triple and bogey to finish the nine at 4-over par. They fought back making birdies on 11 and 14 but were unable to get anything further going. The duo shot a second round 76, leaving them four shots off the cut line into match play.

Luett and Lierz Qualify for U.S. Junior Amateur

Qualifier Hank Lierz (left) from St. Joseph, Missouri and Medalist Nick Luett from Clinton head off to Flint Hills National Golf Club in Andover, Kansas.

Jacob Luett of Clinton and Hank Lierz of St. Joseph, Missouri fired rounds of 66 and 67 respectively on Monday, June 19, at Otter Creek Golf Course and qualify for the U.S. Junior Amateur.

Luett, who's medalist-winning performance featured six birdies and only one bogey, commented that he tried to give himself a lot of look at birdies. "I just tried to give myself chances," Luett said.

Lierz, fresh off his Missouri Junior Match Play title, found five birdies to go along with a lone bogey of his own.

The U.S. Junior Amateur was played July 17-22 at Flint Hills National Golf Club, Andover, Kan. Unfortunately Luett and Lierz both failed to make match play.

Snelling Qualifies for U.S. Girls' Junior Amateur

Emily Snelling, of Clear Lake, Iowa, traveled north to Hastings, Minnesota in her pursuit in qualifying for the U.S. Girls' Junior Amateur. She competed against a strong field with only four spots up for grab.

Emily played one of the most consistent rounds of the qualifier. She began by making seven straight pars before making her only bogey of the round on the short par four eighth hole. She quickly reversed that blemish by making birdie on holes nine and ten. She was steady from there and came into the clubhouse with a round of 71, one under par.

Her 71 was good enough to make it on the number to secure a trip to the U.S. Girls' Junior Amateur held at Boone Valley Golf Club, in Augusta, Missouri. While at the championship Emily shot rounds of 83-80 to miss qualifying for match play.

Two Qualify at Finkbine GC for U.S. Amateur

A pair of college golfers advanced to the U.S. Amateur from a qualifier at Finkbine Golf Course in Iowa City.

Alex Moorman, of Centerville, who plays collegiately at Iowa, and Daniel Sutton, who is from England but plays at Kansas University, each posted 36-hole totals of 6-under 138 to claim co-medalist honors and the only two spots into the field at Riviera Country Club near Los Angeles. Sutton shot identical rounds of 69 while Moorman posted 71 in the morning 18 and then fired 5-under 67 in the afternoon.

Garrett May, of Rock Island, Ill. shot 4-under 140 (68-72) to earn 1st alternate status while Luke Miller of Clive (71-71) was at 2-under 142 and is the 2nd alternate. May plays collegiately at Baylor while Miller is a mid-amateur.

Moorman was joined by fellow Iowan Mike McCoy at Riviera Country Club. McCoy was exempt into the U.S. Amateur for being on the 2015 U.S. Walker Cup Team.

At the Championship proper both McCoy and Moorman would struggle during stroke play qualifying. Moorman shot rounds of 74-78, 152, (+12) and McCoy 76-80, 156, (+16). Both missed the cut into match play.

Daniel Sutton (L) of England and Alex Moorman of Centerville share medalist honors.

Team Iowa Finishes 19th at USGA Women's State Team

In the final USGA State Team Championship ever, Team Iowa went out on a nice note.

The trio of Jenny Heinz, Leanne Smith and Britta Snyder gave Iowa its second best finish ever in the biennial event, posting a team score of 457 (+25) at The Club at Las Campanas in Santa Fe, N.M. It was good enough to make the cut and finish in solo 19th place. The best finish ever for Iowa was 17th in 2005 at Berkley Hall GC in South Carolina.

The USGA determined to retire both the Men's and Women's State Team Championships following the 2017 Women's Championship. The events began in 1995, coinciding with the USGA's 100th Anniversary celebration. The intent was to hold them just that year, but they were so popular with the players that they continued on an every-other-year basis.

The scoring format counts the best two-out-of-three 18 scores each day.

Snyder, 15, of Ames, led the squad in New Mexico. She posted one of the two counting scores for Iowa each of the three days, shooting 79-72-71—222 to finish in a tie for 19th individually. Heinz, 35, of Cedar Falls fired 76-80-84—240 while Smith, 36, of Indianola, came back after a rough first round 86 with 79-80 to post 245.

Snyder and Smith were both playing in their first USGA Women's State Team while Heinz has been a fixture on recent teams. 2017 was her sixth appearance, making every Iowa team since 2007.

The final championship was ultimately captured by Tennessee, who finished one stroke ahead of Delaware and two ahead of Florida. Iowa finished 26 strokes back.

Sam Billmeyer of Ankeny, shot a 2-under 70 at the Briarwood Golf Club in Ankeny to earn the lone qualifying spot into the U.S. Senior Amateur Championship.

Billmeyer moves on to play the national event August 26-31 at The Minikahda Club in Minneapolis, Minnesota.

Billmeyer, who played in the first group out, didn't get off to a great start, but closed with a flourish. After a birdie at 3, he made bogey at five, six & nine to turn at 2-over par 38. But then he tore up the back nine, firing a 4-under 32 with birdies at 10, 12, 14 and 16 against no bogeys. That run was good enough for 70, (-2) and a one shot win over Joe Palmer of West Des Moines.

Joe Palmer was the 1st alternate while Tom Norton, of Muscatine, the 2nd alternate. Norton shot even-par 72. Billmeyer would join fellow Iowan Gene Elliott at the Championship proper. You can read more about how they did on the next page.

Elliott and Billmeyer represent at U.S. Senior

Gene Elliott of West Des Moines, and Sam Billmeyer of Ankeny, represented Iowa in the 2017 U.S. Senior Amateur held at the Minikahda Club in Minneapolis, Minn.

Elliott played in his first ever U.S. Senior Amateur as a newly turned 55-year old. He was exempt into the field due to his ranking inside the top-500 of the World Amateur Golf Ranking. Billmeyer made it through the qualifying round held at Briarwood Golf Club and was the sole qualifier into the championship.

Billmeyer shot rounds of 82-83 to miss making match play at the Championship proper. Elliott, however, was able to earn the 15th seed into match play after shooting rounds of 77-69.

In Elliott's opening round of match play he was able to get off to a quick lead and never looked back, dispatching Virginia's Patrick Tallent 6 & 4.

In the Round of 32, Elliott raced out to another quick lead, 3-up through 7 holes, on Keith Decker of Virginia. Holding a 3-up lead through 13 holes, Elliott would see his lead dwindle to all square through 16 holes. Decker would ultimately win the 18th hole to win the match 1 up.

Rosalie Kubesheski, of Dubuque, participated in the U.S. Senior Women's Amateur September 9-14. It was contested at Waverly Country Club in Portland, Oregon.

Her journey started at Greenbriar Hills Country Club near St. Louis, Missouri where she qualified against ten other women from around the Midwest. There were two spots up for grab in the one round qualifier. Kubesheski was able to shoot an 83 to secure the second qualifying spot and one shot clear of playing off for 1st alternate.

At the Championship Rosalie posted rounds of 84-83 (+23) to just miss qualifying for match play by four strokes.

Drenth and Anderson Qualify for U.S. Mid-Amateur at Davenport CC

Dusty Drenth of Davenport and J.D. Anderson of Johnston earned co-medalist honors and the two qualifying spots into the U.S. Mid-Amateur Championship at Davenport Country Club on September 6th. The two each shot 1-over-par 72.

Drenth had a bit of an up and down day while Anderson was more steady arriving at his 72. Drenth posted five birdies - four on the front nine - against six bogeys while Anderson had two birdies and three bogeys.

Luke Miller earned first alternate after winning a playoff with Nate Dunn and Patrick Hall, when all three fired a 74. It proved to be an important win too, as Anderson was unable to participate at the championship proper due to qualifying for a tournament in Germany that was held at the same time. That meant Miller was in the field.

It was the first time qualifying for the U.S. Mid-Am for Drenth, Anderson and Miller, even though Anderson would not ultimately make the trip. In all, 30 players battled at Davenport CC for the two qualifying spots.

Five Represent Iowa in U.S. Mid-Amateur Championship

When the smoke cleared and qualifying was finished for the 2017 U.S. Mid-Amateur Championship, five Iowans had earned their way into the field. Only 16 states had more representatives than Iowa at Capital City Club in Atlanta, all of which had significantly higher populations.

Mike McCoy, Des Moines, by virtue of his 2013 win at the U.S. Mid-Am, was exempt. Dusty Drenth of Davenport and Luke Miller of Des Moines made it through qualifying held at Davenport Country Club. Gene Elliott, West Des Moines, earned his spot through qualifying held just outside of Chicago. Jay Gregory of Lineville was the final Iowan in the field. He captured medalist honors at a qualifier held in Kansas City.

Of all the players at the 2017 U.S. Mid-Am, McCoy had the most appearances. He was making his 19th in 2017. Elliott was making his 13th trip.

Elliott and Drenth would both make the 64-person match play draw following stroke play rounds. Miller came quite close as he posted +6 147 (72-75) leaving him one shot out of a playoff for the final spots in the draw. McCoy put together rounds of 78-77—155 while Gregory posted two rounds of 80.

Both Elliott and Drenth would go on to win their first round match and bow out in the round of 32 (read more about Elliott and Drenth below and right).

Elliott Secures POY

In order to pass Joe Palmer for the Senior Player of the Year award, Gene Elliott needed to finish the season strong at the U.S. Mid-Amateur. Specifically, he need to make the match play bracket to earn enough 'bonus points' to pass Palmer. He did just that at Capital City Club in Atlanta, Georgia.

Elliott shot 72-73—145 over the Capital City and Atlanta National courses - Atlanta National was the stroke play co-host - to finish in a tie for 28th and earn the 39th seed in the draw.

Gene Elliott (USGA)

He played terrifically in his opening match, defeating Daniel MacDonald of New Jersey 7 and 6. He birdied the first two holes to get a 2 up advantage and never looked back. Elliott birdied five of the 12 holes they played and MacDonald simply couldn't keep up.

Elliott was unable to keep his play quite to the level of round one during his second round match. He would manage just one birdie as he succumbed to Michael Muehr of Virginia, 3 and 2.

Elliott, who is 55 years old, was making his 13th trip to the U.S. Mid-Amateur Championship. He has now reached match play in 12 of those visits.

Dusty Drenth Takes Down Defending Champion Hagestad

Dusty Drenth pulled off a remarkable win during the first round of match play at the 2017 U.S. Mid-Amateur, staged at Capital City Club and Atlanta National Golf Club in Atlanta, Georgia. But before he could accomplish that, there were some anxious moments.

Drenth, making his first appearance at the U.S. Mid-Am, posted an opening 71 over the Atlanta National course during stroke play qualifying. The 29-year old from Davenport then slipped a bit to a 75 over the Capital City layout on day two. This left him at +5 (146) and smack in the middle of an enormous 25-for-16 playoff. One he would have to wait until the next morning to participate in.

He survived the first playoff hole with a par and then a simple bogey on the second playoff hole - a 486 yard par-4 - meant that he had the 61st seed in the match play draw. That also meant that he would face the defending champion, California's Stewart Hagestad, in the first round.

Drenth was up to the challenge. He got off to a great start, making birdie on the first hole and taking an early 1 up advantage. But Hagestad would come back to win three of the next five to take a 2 up lead through six. Drenth fired back with a birdie at seven then reeled off three straight wins at 9, 10, and 11 to take a 2 up lead himself. He would then match the defending champion shot for shot before winning the 17th hole to close it out 3 and 1.

"I was grooving early and I just kept pulling it [the driver from his bag] and kept ripping it right down the middle of the fairway,"

He moved on to face Dan Sullivan, also of California, in round two. Drenth once again gave himself a 2 up lead after 12 holes, but Sullivan would answer with birdies at 13 and 15 to square the match. Drenth then made an untimely bogey at 16 to fall behind. The two then matched pars on 17 and 18 as Drenth fell, 1 up.

Tri-State Masters

Barry Poe, Sioux City Journal

Add the Tri-State Masters to the list of “major” golf tournament victories for Chris Rager.

Rager, previously a winner of the Men’s City and River-Cade, braved the elements at Green Valley to post a three-stroke triumph over Josh Wendling in the 13th Tri-State Masters.

Christopher Rager

Rain forced the event to be shortened to 36 holes, wiping out the second round planned for Covington Links in South Sioux City. The first round was played in a steady rain at Dakota Dunes Country Club.

The top 12 in the championship flight made the cut for the final nine holes and by then Rager had a three-shot advantage over Wendling, courtesy of a 2-under 70 he carved out in cold and windy conditions.

Southeast Iowa Amateur

The Southeast Iowa Amateur saw a role reversal between J.D. Anderson and Alex Moorman. Anderson, who beat out Moorman by two in the 2016 Southeast Iowa Amateur, finished second to him this year along with Scot Cook.

Alex Moorman

Moorman, who plays at the University of Iowa, built a commanding lead after firing 69-70 (-5) in the first two rounds. As he entered the final nine holes of the Championship he had built a six shot lead over J.D. Anderson.

From there Moorman was able to come in strong with a final 9 hole score of 35 (-1) securing the Championship.

In the Senior Division, Terry Cook of West Des Moines and Joe Bates of Albia tied at 149 (+5). The winner was decided by a playoff and Terry Cook needed only one hole to defeat Joe Bates for the win.

Carroll Amateur

Jon Brown

Jon Brown of Urbandale fought both the wind and the field to win the 2017 Carroll Amateur.

Brown opened up the first round with a 73 (+2) trailing Zach Christianson by one.

The second round brought a couple more names into the mix with Brad Krohn coming from behind, shooting a 69 (-2) to position himself in a tie for second with Brown at 147. J.J. Cooney also had a strong second round shooting 71 (E), moving into the lead at 145.

The final round was all about survival. Brown played steady and snuck his way back into the lead. He only had one major blemish on his card, a double bogey on the 15th hole. He turned in a 73 (+2) that would eventually put him two shots clear of Cooney.

In the Senior Division Bret Taylor won handily over Gary Ellis. He shot rounds of 75-68 (143). Rob Christensen was the low Super Senior after finishing 3rd overall in the Senior Division.

Fort Dodge Amateur

Joe Urbanek, of Tripoli, captured the 2017 Fort Dodge Amateur by a landslide. Urbanek won by a margin of seven shots over the next closest competitor.

Urbanek, who shot rounds of 74-71-73, finished with a total of 218 (+5). Runner-up finisher James Calkins, from West Union, played consistently with three 75s but was unable to get enough steam going to get close enough to Urbanek.

Joe Palmer

The Senior Division turned out to be a tight race between Joe Palmer, of Urbandale, and Bret Taylor, of Booneville.

Taylor held the lead by four after rounds of 72-71, 143. That lead would dwindle in the final round as Palmer would make a run on the front nine.

Palmer turned in a 32, (-3) to Taylors 36, (+1). A four shot swing would put them tied heading into the final nine. Palmer ended up making nine straight pars to narrowly beat out Taylor by a single stroke for the win.

Iowa Masters

Gene Elliott

Gene Elliott, of West Des Moines, won his third Iowa Masters title after posting a 54-hole total of 205, 11-under par.

Elliott shot rounds of 66-69-70 to edge out Jon Brown, of Clive, who has four Masters titles of his own. Brown shot three rounds of 69 for a total of 207 (-9).

Iowa Amateur Champion Trevor Ullestad, of Jewell, finished in third place after shooting solid rounds of 71-71-69.

Marshalltown's Cole Davis had a nice week as well, finishing tied for eighth overall and was crowned Junior Champion after shooting rounds of 73-72-74.

Waterloo Open

Alex Schaake

The 2017 Waterloo Open left nothing back for the local fans. Austin Quick, of Phoenix, Ariz. won his biggest event of his young career by shooting rounds of 66-63-65 for a 194 total (-22). With this win he took home $50,000 in prize money.

Quick was tied for the lead through two rounds with Zach Wright of Stuart, Fla. Wright played an excellent final round shooting 67 (-5), but was two shots shy of overtaking Quick.

In the Amateur Division, Alex Schaake of Omaha, Neb. won by three strokes over Trey Tussey. Schaake posted rounds of 72-68-65 for a total of 205, (-11). The amateur division plays three different courses in the Waterloo area starting with either Gates Park or South Hills and finishing up at Irv Warren.

In the Senior Division Terry Cook of West Des Moines came out victorious over a competitive field. Cook shot 72-73 to hold off Bret Taylor of Booneville by one shot.

Briarwood Amateur

J.D. Anderson and Terry Cook were the victors at the 2017 Briarwood Amateur.

Anderson, of Johnston, won the Open Division by three shots over David Combs of West Des Moines and Brian Allison of Norwalk.

Anderson opened the 36-hole event with a 5-under-par 67 then closed with a 68 to finish at 9-under 135. Combs went 71-67 while Allison reversed that with 67-71 as they both finished at 6-under-par 138.

On the Senior side, Cook, of West Des Moines, played impressively over the two days. He fired an even-par 72 to open then finished strong with a 3-under 69. His 3-under total of 141 was two shots clear of Jay Slings of Ankeny and Ron Peterson of Urbandale.

Iowa Open

Nyasha Mauchaza made the long trip from South Florida to play in his first Iowa Open. It was worth it.

The Zimbabwe native opened his first round by shooting a 65 (-7) to take the lead. He followed that up with a round of 70 (-2), which put him behind Chase Hanna of Leawood, Kan. who was sitting at the top of the leaderboard at -11.

The final round was nothing but exciting. Nate Yankovich, who played golf at the University of Iowa, got hot in the final round. He birdied seven of his first 12 holes, getting to -15 for the tournament. He had the lead but bogeys at 13 and 16 caused him to drop back.

While Yankovich was making his move, Mauchaza kept his head down and fought his way back into contention. Mauchaza put himself into a tie for the lead with two holes to play, but a perfectly timed birdie on the 17th hole put him in the lead to stay and the $25,000 prize in his back pocket.

Nick Voke, from Ames, earned low amateur honors after a string of 69s placed him T6th

IGA Players of the Year

J.D. Anderson

It is no surprise that once the dust had settled in 2017 J.D. Anderson would come out on top of the Player of the Year race. Anderson has been a model of consistency over the span of his amateur career. Since 2002 he has accumulated 13 top-ten finishes in the IGA Player of the Year standings.

The 43-year old from Johnston was able to start the year off with a bang. He shot a final round 67 to win the Iowa Mid-Amateur, which was his first IGA Championship.

He then went on cruise control after that picking up top 5s at the Southeast Iowa Amateur, Northwest Amateur and Herman Sani Tournament.

J.D. ended the year by winning the Briarwood Amateur by three as well as earning medalist honors at the U.S. Mid-Amateur sectional qualifier at Davenport Country Club.

To top it all off, J.D. traveled to Germany to compete in the Mercedes Trophy World Final where he came out victorious on the international field.

Senior Player of the Year

Gene Elliott

For the second year in a row and third overall, Gene Elliott earned his way to IGA Senior Player of the Year, but it wasn't decided until the final hour. Elliott's performance (Round of 32) at the U.S. Mid-Amateur gave him enough 'bonus' points to overtake Joe Palmer for the award.

On top of winning Senior Player of the Year, Gene finished runner-up in the men's standings as well. He notched wins at the Iowa Masters and 22nd IGA Four-Ball (with partner Mike McCoy). Elliott also finished T5th at the Stocker Cup and T9th at the George L. Coleman Invitational in 2017.

In the Senior Division Gene won the IGA Senior Match Play, the Iowa Senior Amateur and made it to the round of 32 of the U.S. Senior Amateur. While not counting toward his point total for IGA Senior Player of the Year, it should be noted that Elliott also won the Canadian Men's Senior Championship, the Trans-Miss Senior and was T2nd at The (British) Seniors Amateur Championship.

Bob Leahy Medal Winners

The "Leahy Medal" is presented to any IGA member who records multiple victories within the state of Iowa in a single season, or, at least one victory and three or more top 5 finishes. Qualifying events include all IGA conducted championships, IGA Sanctioned Point Events and USGA qualifiers played in Iowa. Additional medals may be awarded for other extraordinary accomplishments at the committee's discretion.

The award is named after 1991 Iowa Golf Hall of Fame inductee Bob Leahy of Cedar Falls. Leahy won a total of 11 major IGA events, including three Iowa Amateurs, during his distinguished playing career. He then went on to serve the IGA on a volunteer basis. He served along with George Turner as a lifetime member of the IGA board until his death on April 18, 2016.

When it comes to Solheim Cup, no one does it better than Des Moines

Suku Radia, Iowa View contributor

When it comes to hosting a major golf event, nobody does it better than the people of Iowa. The success of the 2017 Solheim Cup held at the Des Moines Golf and Country Club last month is proof perfect.

As almost everyone in Iowa knows, the Solheim Cup is held biennially and is the world's premier team tournament for women's golfers. The event begins with a junior competition for amateurs between the ages of 13 and 18, followed by three days of intense play by the best professional women's golfers in Europe and the United States.

So how well did the tournament do this year? The 2017 Solheim Cup enjoyed the largest crowds in the event's 27-year history with attendees numbering nearly 140,000, and the tournament's previous revenue record was shattered. Fans purchased tickets in all 50 states and in 25 foreign countries, and the competition garnered the largest TV audience ever reported for a women's golf event.

Further, the LPGA recognized us as one of its most generous, most socially responsible hosts. Half of the Des Moines Golf and Country Club's net proceeds will go to charities benefiting women and children in central Iowa. The LPGA staffers who participated in the event were delighted with our efforts. I'll give Shirley Sprock, a founder of the LPGA who is now 90 years of age, the organization's last word: "This tournament was the best women's golf event in our history." Surely she is qualified to make that call.

I have received more than 150 communications thanking me for bringing the Solheim Cup to Iowa, and, as chair of the organizing committee and then tournament chair, I am proud to be the conduit of such messages. The lion's share of the credit for the event's success, however, goes to everyone who gave so much during our four years of preparation and throughout the tournament week.

In addition to the 2,000 volunteers whose contributions are too numerous to list, special thanks also go to the fans, whose enthusiasm made all of the preparation worthwhile; the skilled professionals of the Des Moines Golf and Country Club who created the perfect venue; and leaders of West Des Moines, Des Moines and surrounding suburbs, and the Iowa Highway Patrol for managing so many visitors efficiently and with grace.

Players and fans alike owe a debt to the Solheim family, makers of Ping golf clubs, whose continued support brings prestige and security to this outstanding event. All of us in Iowa are sorry for the loss of Louise Solheim, who founded the Solheim Cup with her husband Karsten and who allowed me to convince her the 2017 tournament should come to our state.

2017 Annual Report

To Promote Golf and its life-enhancing values with an emphasis on teaching, preserving, and protecting the history and traditions of the game in Iowa.

Letter from the President

Dear IGA Foundation friends and supporters,

I am very excited to report 2017 was the best year ever for the Iowa Golf Association Foundation. We raised more money than we ever have before, allowing us to grow our programs and contributions that “Share the Game, Impact the Future and Protect the Past”.

A few years ago we set a goal to “Secure the Sani” and raise $350,000 over a five-year period for the Herman Sani Scholarship. We reached that goal - and then some - this past year. The generous donation from Mike, Ed and Art Coppola a few years ago was instrumental in reaching this milestone, as they committed $250,000 toward the effort. Their gift combined with significant contributions from hundreds of others, resulted in a total of nearly $450,000 raised over the past five years. It truly is remarkable.

With the Sani scholarship in a very secure place financially, our scholarship funding will now shift somewhat to our Ann Griffel Scholarship fund. We are going to focus on two aspects of this scholarship in the coming years. One is to increase the reserve fund and two is to raise the level of our awards each year. Currently we give five Iowa high school girls a scholarship of $2,000 for one year. We would love to get this gift in line with our Sani scholarship, which awards $2,000 per year for four years ($8,000 total) to four Iowa students (boys & girls) each year. In fact, we don't intend to stop there with either scholarship. We ultimately want to increase the value of both as the cost of college is only going up.

In addition to scholarships we continue to impact the future by our support of junior golf. We awarded more “Grow the Game” grants to PGA Section pros who are administering the Golf in Schools program. We once again volunteered with the Iowa Section PGA in their administration of Drive, Chip and Putt qualifiers and look forward to working with them more closely in the coming years on junior golf programs.

We increased our funding to turfgrass research and support of the Iowa Golf Course Superintendents Association. We are a Gold Sponsor of the Iowa Turfgrass Institute and a Silver Sponsor of the Iowa GCSA. We made a significant donation that supports club visits from Iowa State University to our member clubs as part of their Turfgrass Extension Service. We are very proud of this and hope to only increase our support in the future.

Once again one of the highlights of the year was the induction of our new members into the Iowa Golf Hall of Fame. We had a wonderful ceremony at Hyperion Field Club for John Ausen, Rick Brown, Emil Roewert, Brad Schuchat and Jerry Smith. These are five truly wonderful individuals who have done a ton for the game in Iowa. We continue to raise funds for displays, plaques and other memorabilia to display at our office and, hopefully sometime in the near future, at a permanent Hall of Fame and Museum building.

None of this is possible without the generosity of so many who are willing to donate to the IGAF. We cannot say “Thank You” enough. We are grateful and cherish the support we have received since our Foundation began in 2011.

My two-year term as IGAF President is now over as I handed the reigns over to Andy Burton in November. I am excited to remain on the IGAF board as we continue to grow and expand what we do for golf and golfers in our great state. Please take a few moments to read the following pages, which showcase in greater detail what we have been up to. Finally, thank you one more time for your support. We appreciate it greatly.

Junior Golf and Player Development

A core purpose of the IGAF is to support the development of future players. The IGAF has established "Grow the Game" grants to support specific programs in Iowa. The funds come from the IGAF general fund as well as specific donations to Junior Golf from the general public. If you would like to make a donation for the specific support of Junior Golf Programs please contact the IGA/IGAF office.

In 2017 the IGAF increased its financial support for Junior Golf Programs in Iowa and continued to provide staff and volunteer support for junior competitions and the fundraising efforts of Allied Organizations. Here is a listing of events and organizations supported:

Iowa PGA Foundation:

- Swings with Kids (Golf in Schools) Program: IGA "Grow the Game" grants funded start-up programs for Boone and Ogden School Districts.
- Sponsored Swings with Kids golf outing to raise money for the statewide program.

Siouxland Youth Golf Association:

- Donation to support programs.

Waterloo Junior Golf Association:

- Provide free Golf Handicap Computation for all WJGA members who sign up as well as rules of golf and handicap education (Note: This service is available to any Junior Organization that wishes to participate. For more information contact Katelynn Hogenson at the IGA/IGAF office.)

The First Tee of Central Iowa:

- Annual sponsor and participant for annual Skywalk Golf Classic Fundraiser in February.

IGA Foundation Supports Iowa PGA's Swings with Kids Program

Brian Wernimont (PGA) instructing a young girl how to hit a golf ball. The Swings with Kids program introduces kids to the game of golf with the direction of Iowa PGA Professionals inside physical education classes.

Introducing golf to Iowa schools through the physical education curriculum is a major initiative of the Iowa Section PGA. The IGAF stepped up its support for this important effort with "Grow the Game" grants to help Iowa PGA member Tom Tays start programs in the Ogden and Boone school districts (see photo). In addition, the IGA Foundation was a primary sponsor of the annual golf outing staged by the Section to raise additional funding for the program.

The funding support was used to purchase equipment and to offset the initial educational efforts to help train and orient the physical education teachers to the fundamentals of golf. The program presents a turnkey curriculum module for the teachers to follow with the ongoing assistance from one or more PGA Professionals.

The IGAF hopes to raise enough support for Junior Golf to fund two or three school systems each year. If you would like to make a specific donation in support of the program please contact the IGA/IGAF office at (515) 207-1062.

Steve Hutton (PGA) leads a class of excited kids eager to learn the game.

Tom Tays (PGA). Tom was given a grant from the IGAF to start programs in the Ogden and Boone school districts.

Turf & Environmental Research

Dr. Adam Thoms, Assistant Professor Horticulture at Iowa State University, speaking to a group golf course superintendents about cultivation and aerification techniques on bent grass putting greens.

The IGA and the IGA Foundation have supported turfgrass research and outreach programs for many years. Tremendous progress has been made in environmental stewardship and sustainability through these programs.

In 2017 the IGAF again contributed to the Iowa Turf Institute in support of the Iowa State University Turf Extension Service. This program benefits golf clubs and golf course superintendents with timely information and trouble-shooting consultation on turf issues. The IGAF continues to be a Gold Sponsor for the annual Iowa Turfgrass Conference each January.

IGA Foundation Book Project

"A History of the Game of Golf in Iowa"

Book will be written by Rick Brown

Rick was an 11-time Iowa Sportswriter of the Year during his time with the Des Moines Register, much of it for his writing on golf. He has written two books since retiring from the Register - "100 Things Iowa Fans Should Know & Do Before they Die" and "Emotion in Motion - Chris Street's Life & Legacy". He was inducted into the Iowa Golf Hall of Fame in 2017.

We are confident Rick Brown will produce a narrative that is informative, fun and entertaining. We look forward to the finished product! If you would like to make a specific donation to this project please contact the IGA/IGAF office.

An official title & cover have yet to be determined.

The Iowa Golf Hall of Fame is administered by the Iowa Golf Association and the IGA Foundation on behalf of all golf organizations in Iowa. Established in 1989, six "classes" were inducted through 1997. After a nine year hiatus the IGA led the effort to revitalize the Hall of Fame resulting in the induction of the "Class of 2006". Yearly inductions have occurred since.

The Induction ceremony held on June 12, 2017 was a great success. Five new members were inducted into the Hall of Fame. Those included were John Ausen CGCS, Rick Brown, Emil Roewert, Brad Schuchat and Jerry Smith. A list of accomplishments of each inductee can be found on page 104.

In January of 2016, the IGA was able to procure additional space adjacent to its Ankeny office to expand the area for Hall of Fame displays and memorabilia.

Donations may be made specifically to the Iowa Golf Hall of Fame through the IGA Foundation to help fund the expansion of displays and the preservation of the history of golf in the state.
