2023 Year in Review

Friends and supporters of the IGA Foundation,

Normally, I'd provide an update on a number of initiatives tied to our foundation in this letter, but there's one initiative that has occupied a significant portion of our time over the past 3+ years and I think it's appropriate to give you all a comprehensive update on Golf House Iowa.

As I write this letter, our IGA staff is preparing to make the move south from Ankeny to the Golf House. While construction is nearly complete, the exciting stuff is just beginning. In short order, Edwards Creative will begin their work to create an interactive digital experience in the hall of fame and museum. Simulators and a putting green will be installed in the lower level. Once the frost is out of the ground this spring, work will begin to install an artificial turfgrass short game area in the backyard of the building.

When I think about where we started with this project, and where we've now arrived, I'm simply amazed. This is the largest undertaking in the history of our storied organization. It will provide a permanent home to our Hall of Fame, an interactive museum to celebrate the rich history of golf in Iowa and will provide a space for youth to learn and engage in our game in a way they never could before. One of the IGA Foundation's core missions is to, "Promote and advance the game of golf in Iowa as an amateur sport." Golf House Iowa gives us the proper platform to do just that.

I want to personally thank our donors, the IGA staff, and all the committee members that gave their time and talents to make this project a success. There is more work that goes into a project like this than you can possibly imagine. Golf House Iowa is much more than a building. It's a place where everyone in our great state can go to get inspired about the game. We'd love for you to come out and see this amazing facility once it's open to the public.

I'll close this letter by thanking a few people who made this dream a reality.

First and foremost, Mike Coppola. Without your initial gift and your foresight, the Golf House most certainly wouldn't have happened.

Our core fundraising team of Chad Pitts, Mark Gambaiana, Charlie Taylor, Mike McCoy, Jamie Alt and Jim Carney. The coffee meetings at Panera on Fleur always seemed to spark a new idea that kept our momentum moving forward. You all played such critical roles in the success of Golf House Iowa, and we're forever in your debt for the work you accomplished.

Finally, to our donors. It goes without saying that this dream isn't a reality without each of you. The excitement and enthusiasm you all showed as we marched down this path continued to remind me that this project was the right thing to do. Because of your contributions, the First Tee - Central Iowa will have a place to teach their amazing curriculum year-round, the Iowa Turfgrass Institute will have an arena to broaden the First Green initiative which teaches youth about the science of golf course turf management, and the IGA will have a permanent home to showcase the amazing accomplishments of players past, present and future.

We'll likely pop a bottle of champagne sometime later this spring at Golf House Iowa to celebrate this amazing facility. I hope to see you all there!

The Biggest Project in IGA History

There has never been a permanent home for the Iowa Golf Hall of Fame.

The IGA relies on its member clubs to provide space for seminars, meetings, and other routine business that benefits the game. Since the late 1990's, the IGA has moved its office three times.

Organizations such as the Iowa Golf Course Superintendents Association and First Tee - Central Iowa have either moved multiple times or do not currently have a central office.

Imagine a physical location centrally located in the state that would honor those that came before us in golf, serve those playing the game today, and develop those that will enjoy this game long after us, as well as serve as a hub from which multiple groups with compatible missions could do what they do more effectively and more efficiently.

With that in mind, we have the vision to create "Golf House Iowa".

The creation of Golf House Iowa will provide a permanent home to preserve, promote, and protect the game of golf in our great state. We plan to include the Iowa Golf Hall of Fame and Museum, a space for educating golfers, areas to promote and teach the game, and office space for the Iowa Golf Association, IGA Foundation, and other related golf organizations.

Joining the Ranks

Class of 2023

Joe Palmer

A fierce competitor and unmatched drive to win are two ways of describing Joe Palmer, of Norwalk.

“Joe has been and continues to be one of the best competitors within the game of golf I have ever seen in the state of Iowa,” Jon Olson, owner of 13 IGA Point Event victories, said of Palmer. “His attitude, desire and perseverance in any round he competes is truly inspiring. He has made myself – and anyone who is attentive to his game – a better player; Joe simply never gives up.”

Palmer’s record speaks for itself. He is a winner of four ‘Open Division’ IGA point events, which includes the 2004 IGA Four-Ball, 2004 Iowa Mid-Amateur and a pair of IGA Match Play titles, his second coming in a remarkable run in 2021 to win the event as a Senior.

Palmer’s dominance on the course really took off when he turned 50 – collecting 27 victories within the Senior Division, which includes five IGA Senior Match Play victories and four Iowa Senior Amateur wins. Palmer also has three Senior Division wins each in the Iowa Mid-Amateur, IGA Four-Ball, Herman Sani Tournament, Fort Dodge Amateur, Iowa Open, and Iowa Masters.

“Joe has been a stalwart on the Iowa Amateur golf scene for decades and has the game that just keeps getting better over time, a rare feat for most accomplished players,” Iowa Golf Hall of Fame member Ken Schall said. “Joe is still competitive among the younger competitors around the state, as evidenced by winning the IGA Match Play and the Iowa Senior Match Play title (his 5th) in the same year. His ball striking ability would compare to nearly any senior player, even at the highest level, professional or amateur.”

Palmer has also competed in six USGA Championships and looks to add to that number in the future.

Jim Curell

Jim Curell, affectionately known as ‘The Legend’, was a household name on the Iowa golf scene for over 50 years.

Curell, of Boone, who passed away in April of 2020, was described by Iowa Golf Hall of Fame member Rick Brown as being a gentleman golfer in the truest sense of the word.

He had a homemade swing that produced outstanding results. He was a three-time winner of the Lake Creek Amateur (1979, 1981, 1999), twice a champion at the Northwest Amateur (1982, 1988) and low amateur at the Iowa Open (1992). Curell also was victorious at the 1980 Tournament of Champions and 1987 Iowa Mid-Amateur. Curell earned IGA Player of the Year honors in 1979.

Once Curell graduated to the Senior Division, he was still a force to be reckoned with – winning the 2005 IGA Four-Ball Senior Division with partner Bruce Gervais, 2011 Senior Match Play and was the 2014 Iowa Masters Senior Division champion. Curell was the IGA Senior Player of the Year in 2010 & 2011 and twice qualified for the U.S. Senior Amateur (2010, 2011). Curell made an astonishing 18 career hole in ones, including one to end a match against Iowa Golf Hall of Fame member Jon Brown in the 2008 IGA Match Play Championship at Lake Panorama.

“For over four decades he set the standard on how to play the game both as a competitor and a gentleman,” Iowa Golf Hall of Fame member Dave Sergeant said.

In addition to his wonderful playing record, Curell gave back to the game that had given him so much. Upon his retirement from Redeker's Furniture in Boone, he began helping maintain the grounds at his home course, Honey Creek. He also served in a volunteer capacity on the committee that administers the Iowa Masters at Veenker each year.

"He will be missed, but never forgotten," Sergeant said.

Doug Dunakey

Doug Dunakey, originally from Waterloo, began turning heads on the golf course at an early age. One of the first came at his hometown's biggest event.

Dunakey, then 13 years-old, opened with a first round 69 at the Waterloo Open which earned him a final round pairing with former Masters champion Bob Goalby. Following wins at the Iowa Junior Amateur (1981), IGA Match Play (1985) and Iowa Amateur (1987) Dunakey turned professional and eventually made his way onto the PGA Tour.

Dunakey made 96 starts on the PGA Tour, including a third place finish at the 1999 Honda Classic and three top 10's. He also made 72 starts on the (then) Nike Tour, which included a win at the 1998 Nike Cleveland Open. That win came one week after shooting 59 in the Nike Miami Valley Open.

Dunakey, who was a three-time All-American and team National Champion at California State University-Stanislaus, is remembered by many who grew up with him or played against him over the years as a great competitor.

"At a young age, he was a competitor that just hit his next shot without any dramatics – just getting the ball in the hole in as few strokes as possible for that day," IGA Board Member Tom Christensen said. "He cared about the game and those that he played with."

Kevin Beard

Ankeny’s Kevin Beard not only was a familiar face at Otter Creek Golf Course (1990-2017) and Ankeny Country Club (1991-1993) for over 25 years, Beard also helped shape countless junior golfers into some of the state’s best.

Beard’s ‘Operation State Champ’ program for junior golfers began in 1997 and was designed to improve the performance of golfers in the area to the point that they would be able to qualify and compete for a state championship. The program involved both summer and winter golf activities, with indoor practice throughout the winter as the biggest change in their practice routine.

The ‘Winter Program’ started with 12 players, all from Ankeny, housed in the old clubhouse at Otter Creek GC. Within three years word had spread and the program had over 60 juniors from numerous high schools and junior highs across central Iowa.

The program had to move to a bigger building as the demand grew. Beard then transformed an old fire station that would become home to the program for the next 10 years. Within a few more years, the number of students grew to over 200 in the winter, with the summer junior program introducing golf to nearly 300 kids each year. At one point a total of 28 schools were represented from as far away as Carroll and Pella.

Beard’s involvement in the program ceased in 2009, due to his focus shifting to the ‘new’ golf course and clubhouse at Otter Creek GC, which he also served as General Manager of at that time. There was no official count, but Beard and his program are credited with helping over 400 players appear at the state tournament – including those who have gone on to become PGA Professionals with their own junior golf programs.

“Kevin instilled character and integrity when teaching our youth what golf teaches us about life,” Iowa Golf Hall of Fame member Jeff Smith said. “He grew the game through ways that are now being adopted 25 years later.”

History of Golf in Iowa

One of the foundational pillars of the IGAF is to preserve and protect the history of the game. One way we have accomplished that is through our partnership with Hall of Fame golf writer Rick Brown. Rick spent an entire year researching and writing a book on the history of golf in Iowa. As you can imagine, this would be a monumental task as the history of golf in Iowa stretches well over a century.

Golf came to Iowa in the late 1800s, planting the seeds for a rich harvest of golf history.

Much of that history, long forgotten, comes to life in “Golden Harvest. Iowa’s Rich Golf History.”

Written by 11-time Iowa Sportswriter of the Year Rick Brown and commissioned by the Iowa Golf Association, this book is a must-read for those who love the game.

Iowa is the home to major champions Jack Fleck, Judy Kimball and Zach Johnson. It’s also the home to 254 nine-hole golf courses, the most of any state in the nation.

It has produced many champions who had success in and out of Iowa, like Jack Rule, Steve Spray, Barb Thomas Whitehead, Ann Casey Johnstone, Lucile Robinson, Art Bartlett, John Jacobs, Mike McCoy, Gene Elliott, Sean McCarty, Ken Schall, Joe Brown, Edith Estabrooks, Rudy Knepper and so many more. Their stories are chronicled in these pages.

“Golden Harvest” is 496 pages, written in narrative form. Proceeds from book sales benefit Iowa Golf Association Foundation programs and services. Purchase your copy today at iowagolf.org.

Scholarships

Ann Griffel & Herman Sani Scholarships

$42,000 Awarded Annually

The IGA Foundation administers two college scholarship programs that annually benefit graduating seniors from Iowa high schools. Each year the IGAF awards $42,000 between the Ann Griffel and Herman Sani Scholarship Funds.

The IGAF awards $2,000 Ann Griffel Scholarships to Iowa high school senior girls who intend to further their education at an Iowa institution of higher learning, whether a college, university, or trade school. Since 1963, 253 students have received assistance.

The Herman Sani Scholarship Program is a four-year scholarship awarded to outstanding graduating seniors who have excelled in academics, community service, and have been involved with golf. Each recipient receives $8,000 ($2,000 per year) over a consecutive four-year period. Since 1950, 190 Iowa students have been awarded Sani Scholarships.

All About Access

Youth Age 6-18 Play for $5

Youth on Course is all about access for junior golfers. Kids aged 6-18 can sign up for a yearly membership. Courses participate in the program and offer days and times when YOC members can come to play for $5 or less. Then the IGA Foundation sends each course a subsidy payment for every round played by a YOC member at the end of each month. Subsidies typically range from $5-7 per round, meaning the courses realize $10-12 per YOC round.

IGA/IGAF Executive Director, Chad Pitts, had plans to complete a Hundred-Hole-Hike in 2023 to benefit YOC but a late season foot injury put a hold on the trek. The Hundred-Hole-Hike is a national fundraising effort where individuals take on the challenge of playing 100 holes of golf in a single day, walking those holes the entire time. Despite the injury, Pitts was able to raise just over $5,700 for the program.

Youth on Course continues to grow year over year (we started here in Iowa in 2018). In 2023 we paid $38,148 in subsidies back to our participating courses.

The program helps drive some “traffic” during off-peak hours to participating courses. In addition, statistics show that over half of YOC rounds are played with a full-paying adult. With this program, we like to think that perhaps the kids are dragging the parents to the golf course, instead of the other way around.

The goals of this program are multiple. We aim to reduce the barrier to trying out golf by decreasing the financial strain (kids only pay $5!), bringing more business to golf courses when they need it most, and getting families out to play this great game together, more often. The program has become nationwide and is accomplishing these goals!

"Super" Support

Each year the IGA and IGAF provide funding for the Iowa State University Turfgrass Extension Service, which provides important information and scientific troubleshooting for golf course superintendents and their facilities throughout Iowa.

In 2023 the Iowa Golf Association Foundation donated $4,000 to be used to assist Iowa State University Extension Turfgrass Specialist, Dr. Adam Thoms' travel. Although Dr. Thoms doesn't exclusively support IGA Member Clubs he has been an invaluable asset. Since 2018 Dr. Thoms made over 150 in-person visits to IGA Member Clubs and has supported countless others remotely.

Additionally, the IGA and IGAF provide annual sponsorships to support the Iowa Turfgrass Institute and the Iowa Turfgrass Conference/Trade Show. The conference offers over 35 unique educational sessions along with a vibrant Trade Show featuring over 70 different exhibitors.

The IGAF will continue to support educational programs that demonstrate best environmental practices that positively address the game's agronomic issues. These programs provide educational benefits to the general public, clubs, and all golfers around the state.
